THEATRE BURNED.

Norumbega Suffers Serious Loss

Expects To Re-open On Monday, June 14.

The open-air theatre at Norumbega Park, Abundale, one of the most pretentious structures of its kind in the country, was burned to the ground early this morning, with an estimated loss of $25,000.

The fire was discovered at 1:54 o'clock by Special Officer Ferrick, who is night watchman at the grounds and he immediately turned in an alarm. When the apparatus arrived the building was a mass of flames and from the eminence upon which it stood the flaming building lit up the section for miles around. Although the firemen got to work promptly the theatre was doomed and the efforts of the department were devoted to preventing the spread of the flames. It is thought that the fire originated in the actors' dressing rooms, possibly from a cigarette, and it is believed that it had been smoldering some time before its presence was known.

The theatre is a total loss, only the steel work remaining. Work was begun on clearing up the rubbish at five this morning and at 7 o'clock 250 men were at work.

Arrangements have been made to erect a new theatre at once with stage, seats and dressing rooms and a canvas roof, similar to what was used before the burned building was constructed. The company expect to have everything in working order by a week from next Monday, or June 14th. The placing of a new steel roof will be postponed until fall.

The damage to the Woman's cottage was slight and as no other portion of the Park was injured, the attractiveness of the place has not been impaired.

A movement is on foot among the freshmen members of the high school for a track meet at Newtonville the latter part of next week, if sufficient entries can be secured. There is an unusual amount of athletic material among the freshmen students this year, and it is expected the meet will provide some interesting contests.

Orpheum Theatre—No more important vaudeville engagement has ever been announced for Boston than that of James K. Hackett, America's most popular actor, who with his former star, E. M. Holland, will appear at the Orpheum Theatre next week, presenting "The Bishop's Candlesticks." Mr. Hackett's advent into vaudeville has been the big theatrical surprise of the season. Despite the extraordinary engagement of Mr. Hackett and Mr. Holland, the balance of the bill will be up to the high Orpheum standard. It will include that phenomenal double voiced singer, Toye, who has a wonderful baritone voice which glides smoothly into the most remarkable soprano. Collins and Hart will be seen in their laughable travesties "Watch The Cat." That musical comedy couple, Charles Besnah and Julia Miller, Burton, Burton and Jordan, comedy musical artists, Swan and Bamard, acrobatic comedians and other big features will complete this great bill.

NEWTON POST OFFICE

To Be Removed To Nonantum Square

Announcement was made last Friday that the Post Office Department had concluded arrangements with Mr. F. A. Bronkie, Agent of the Nonantum Building, for a lease of the store now occupied by Gawn Wilson the grocer, and a portion of the store now occupied by Erikson the tailor, for the Newton post office for the next ten years. The new office will be 26 feet in width and is 117 feet in depth. The United States Government is hard to suit and requires its landlord to provide the light, heat, fixtures, desks and even the waste baskets for it to use. The change was decided upon quite recently as the lease of the present quarters expired last August and negotiations have been under way for some months for renewal. The former rent was $300 a year and the Newton Associates, who own the building desired a larger return. It is rumored that only $50 separated the parties, at the last. It is also rumored that the rent in the Nonantum Building will be $1200 a year, although that figure is not official. Mr. Wilson will move his store around the corner towards Jefferson street, a few doors from his present location.

It is interesting to note the few changes which have taken place in the location of the Newton post office during the past fifty years. Smith's history tells us that the first office was established in 1820 with Charles Eames, who kept a small store on Washington street, about opposite the present bank site, as the first postmaster. He handed the office over to his journeyman, William B. Newton, and he in turn was succeeded by the late Joseph N. Bacon. At that time the office was in the store of George W. Bacon, in the old Bacon block. Mr. Bacon was succeeded in 1850 by Dr. Daniel P. Mann, the first apothecary in town, and moved to his shop, which adjoined the store now occupied by Harrington's news depot. Mr. Charles F. Rogers succeeded to the business of Dr. Mann, and indeed had acted as postmaster when Mann held that office. He continued to act as deputy, altho Horace R. Wetherell and Dexter Whipple held the postmaster commissions. Mr. Samuel Chisholm was appointed postmaster under Lincoln and moved the office across the railroad track to the drug store of Mr. E. T. Billings, then located in the old Eliot block, which had formerly been the Eliot church. Here it remained until Chisholm was removed from office by President Johnson and Edwin Holman appointed in his stead. Holman took the office into the old Hyde block which stood about where Hudson's drug store is located in Nonantum square. The facts are a little obscure about this time, but it is evident that Chisholm was again appointed postmaster after Holman, as his name appears on the post office books, but if that was the case it was for a short time, as Mr. John G. Latta became postmaster about 1871. The time when the post office moved to Brackett's block on Centre street is also hazy, but it was probably about 1877 and its last move across the street to the then Lancaster block was probably in the early eighties. The writer recalls Mr. Latta as postmaster in the present quarters prior to the appointment of the late George H. Morgan as postmaster by President Cleveland in 1885. Mr. Morgan served until the consolidation in 1898, remaining as superintendent of the Newton office until 1901 when he became the postmaster of the entire city and was succeeded as superintendent of the Newton office by Mr. William J. Irving. Mr. Irving was succeeded by the present superintendent, Mr. John I. Farwell, in 1903.

It will thus be seen that the office has been in its present quarters for nearly thirty years and has probably been on the south side of the track for nearly forty years.

When the fact that the change is coming, becomes more widely known there is certain to be strong objections entered from many who are better served by the present location. Many Boston business men have been in the habit of calling for their morning mail as they go to the train, and the Sunday morning opening accommodates many on their way to church. Both of these conveniences will be considerably curtailed by the change. Objections will also be raised on account of the chronic crowded condition of the square and the fact that ninety-nine per cent of the patrons will be obliged to cross this busy car centre.

The department hopes to be able to make the transfer on July first, but it may be a few days later when all arrangements are completed.

ANNUAL MEETING OF NEWTON W. C. T. U.

The annual meeting of the Newton Woman's Christian Union was held Tuesday, June 1, 3 P. M., at the residence of Mrs. S. L. Eaton, 340 Lake avenue, Newton Highlands. Encouraging reports were read by the secretary, treasurer and superintendents of the different departments of work, showing valuable work done during the first year after the formation of the Union. The membership is now almost sixty. A liberal donation has been made to the Frances Willard Settlement, 44 Chambers street, Boston; a number of comfort bags have been made and sent to the sailors and lumbermen. The W. C. T. U. Fair held at Tremont temple in April was supported. A Loyal Temperance Legion of fifteen members, and a Y. W. C. A. for young women, of 18 members, have been organized. Numerous instructive lectures on branches of temperance work have been given by specialists on the different subjects. A public meeting is to be held shortly, addressed by that famous temperance advocate, Gen. Daggett.

Mrs. S. L. Eaton was elected president; Mrs. W. E. Birdsall, Mrs. Henry Collier and Mrs. S. L. Durgin were re-elected secretary, treasurer and auditor, respectively. Mrs. Frank Patterson was made corresponding secretary. The superintendents of the different departments of work were re-elected with two exceptions.

After the business meeting, refreshments were served and the guests were entertained with music. The meeting then adjourned to the piazza of the Eaton Sanitarium across the street, where tea was served. There is every indication of a promising growth during the coming year and it is confidently expected the membership will reach one hundred.

LASELL CANOE RACE

On Monday the "Blues" won by a half length the annual canoe race of the Lassel seminary crews on Charles river at Auburndale, the "Reds" finishing second and the "Blacks" third. The big war canoes were manned by eight young women and a captain. The start was made near Fox Island, and the course was a half mile straightaway into Pulsifer Cove near Auburndale. After they had made about half the course the canoes paddled by the "Red" and "Black" crews collided, throwing both crews off their stroke, but doing no serious damage. This gave the "Blues" a lead which the other crews were unable to overcome.

The winning crew, captained by Miss Martha Lazzlett, comprised Misses Mary Lombard, Grace Miller, Edna Merriam, Marguerite Dike, Dorothy Chaffee, and Tot McLean. The "Red" crew was captained by Miss Mildred Goodall and comprised Misses Margaret Wadsworth, Sarah Guething, Amy Brannan, Edith Einstaedt, Ellen Cudworth, Eleanor Laurens, Helen Schnudug and Alice Fuller. The "Black" team, captained by Miss Hannah Morton, consisted of Misses Ella Puchta, Susan Stryster, Rachel Edwards, Eleanor Warner, Cornelia Stone, Reva Burnham, Gladys Lawton, and Miriam Bartlett.

POLICE

Probable cause was found Tuesday morning in the case of Arthur J. Deackes, 26, of 116 Pearl street, who was arraigned on a charge of breaking and entering and larceny from the building of Simon A. White. It was testified that a kit of tools belonging to Mr. White and two rugs owned by Dr. Madison Bunker were taken. The police recovered the tools. Deackes was held in $500 bonds for the grand jury.

Charged with violating the liquor law by selling Jamaica ginger containing 18.88 per cent alcohol to grocers in Newton Upper Falls, Frank N. Terrio of Mechanic street was convicted in court Tuesday. The case was continued till Oct. 30 for final disposition. Terrio entered a plea of not guilty, although he admitted selling the ginger. His counsel asserted the ginger was guaranteed "pure" under the pure food regulations.

Judge Kennedy said that should the defendant continue to sell the ginger he would impose a fine of $50 or $100. He suggested that Terrio buy back considerable ginger which he had sold to grocers in Newton Upper Falls and this he agreed to do. Two Armenian grocers were then told by the court that they could receive back money they had paid Terrio for ginger. "He won't buy back any from me," declared one of the grocers. "I'll put it in the dump instead."

Fines amounting to $35 were imposed Saturday in court here upon Oscar Silvula, aged 25, of 121 Dunster street, Brookline, the driver of the automobile which ran down Lathier Van Buskirk, son of John L. Van Buskirk of 11 Maple circle, while he was riding a bicycle on Washington street, near Jewett, Wednesday evening.

Silvula, who says he is employed as a chauffeur by a Boston motor concern, was charged with operating a machine without a license and of refusing to stop when signalled by patrolman Ryan. He pleaded guilty to the first charge and not guilty to the second, but was convicted of both charges and fined $10 and $25 respectively. The automobile ran into the bicycle from the rear, smashing the wheel and throwing off and injuring the boy.

KEPPLER-FENNO

The home of Hon. and Mrs. John Arthur Fenno was the scene of a pretty and informal wedding at 5 o'clock, May 29th, when their daughter, Miss Mildred Aroline Fenno, was married to Ensign Chester H. J. Keppler, United States Navy. The ceremony was private, only the immediate family being present, with a reception afterward for the intimate friends of the family. Rev. Chas. B. Bowser of Lawrence performed the ceremony and the Episcopal service was used. Mr. Fenno giving his daughter in marriage. Ensign Louis H. Maxfield, U. S. Navy, was best man. The bride wore an imported gown of chiffon satin with silver embroidery and hedges, while the usual tulle veil was used, she carried white sweet peas and wore pearls for jewelry. Mrs. Fenno wore gray crepe-de-chine with diamonds and carried pink sweet peas. The house was decorated with Killarney roses in the reception room, where Hon. and Mrs. Fenno stood, and with yellow marguerites and palms in the library, where the bridal pair received the congratulations of their many friends. The dining room had white bride roses. At the close of the reception the bride cut the cake with the groom's sword and there was much merriment over the fluting of the ring, thimble and silver place. An automobile conveyed the newly married couple to their destination and after a short trip they will be in New York, where the groom's ship, the U. S. S. Yaukont, is at present stationed.

SOCIAL EDUCATION

BY NEWBOLD HAZARD
Author of the Human Limit

(Copyright 1909 by Edwin Chase Merrill)

We must credit Froebel with the statement that "Life is mathematics." Having been an accountant in his early career, it is but a natural sequence that he should resolve the life problem into a question of figures. He fails, however, in making the process clear to the average student of life.

The science of mathematics is not universal. It is, in fact, almost empirical. A good knowledge of figures is necessary to the successful working out of all business enterprises, political economy and questions of national importance. These represent groups of associated individuals. According to modern views of education, the group is regarded as a composite individual, and every associated unit is trained to represent the group.

The most uncultured mind can grasp the fact that life is a matter of time.

We are taught by all the canons of philosophy that, under ordinary conditions, a person may expect to live, at least, three score and ten years. This equals the age of seventy. Some people have lived much longer than that; many others have fallen far short of it.

Other things being equal, seventy years of mortal existence is not considered excessive. But other things are rarely equal in this life. The average mortality is therefore, greatly increased.

That life is a question of mathematics from the standpoint of Time is, perhaps, the simplest way of expressing Froebel's idea in the language of today. There are other modes of expressing it, however.

Time, as we understand it, refers to periods, or divisions of life into centuries, years, months, weeks, days, hours, minutes and seconds. There are other divisions outside the calendar of life.

The analysis of time is a mental process, pure and simple. The ability to divide anything into periods, parts and fundamentals, presupposes the ability to add, subtract and multiply; for multiplication is the opposite of division, and addition the reverse of subtraction; while multiplication is but a series of additions, and division a series of subtractions. These processes are interdependent, independent of and dependent upon some human interest, which they represent. They are all based upon a unit of value which men have agreed upon. The currency of money values has the same basis; it refers to human affairs, and resolves finances into higher mathematics.

Owing to the close relation between time, mathematics and money, it is not strange that a successful life is generally regarded as dependent upon a bountiful supply of each. But these three terms are hardly synonymous. Neither is the mental side of life the whole of it.

The mathematical (or mental) faculty in the individual takes note of time as representing the length of life only. There are other faculties which denote its breadth and thickness. The social faculty denotes the broadness of a man's life, and the physical faculties, its solidity. Mathematics enter into sociology and physical development; but it is here we emerge from mere arithmetic and enter into the still higher phase of geometry. We go from abstract figures, which represent values and balances into forms and pictures, and from thence into the concrete realm of solids. From representative balances we take up the sciences of equilibrium and architecture. We carry science into art. We have ceased to deal with time alone; the realm of space has been added. With time and space the field of human activity, (or motion) is reached.

The mathematical art has to do, then, with the fundamentals of time, space and motion. These are the human fundamentals also.

It is evident that the education of man involves equally his mental, social and physical natures, from a mathematical standpoint.

Looking at life in this way, it is beyond question a mathematical problem.

Taking up the social factor of harmony with the foregoing, we again find that rhythm is mathematical in point of time. Activity, or movement in the physical sense is involved with time, or mathematics.

Brain power is measured by ability to figure things out; the conceptive power is sound if theory is reduced to practice; executive power is true if directed by the true conception and the correct hypothesis.

To the energizing influence of harmony we have added the absolute necessity of equality to the science and art of education.

Froebel's wisdom was far-sighted. His influence is felt in all systems of education at the present time; but his name is still confined to the kindergarten.

BROOKLINE WINS

The first ball game in the Preparatory School league took place Monday forenoon on the Chaffin field, Newtonville, between the Newton High and their old time rivals, the Brookline High. A crowd of over a thousand persons witnessed the game, which was a walkover for the visitors, who won, 6 to 1. In the first half of the fourth inning, when Mason tried to steal second, he came in collision with Donahue so hard as to knock the latter off his feet, and breaking his collar bone. Donahue was assisted off the field and the encouraging cheers of both the grand stand and the Brookline team. He was taken to the Newton hospital. In the police auto, where the bone was set. Barry took Donahue's place at second, Fripp going to short and Gallagher playing centre field. Newton was outplayed in about every position. The team was unable to hit Carr's splendid pitching and when opportunities to score presented themselves—which were seldom—they were thrown away by that execrable judgment which has characterized the coaching this season. In their half of the fourth inning, O'Neill, who had reached third thru error by Brookline, attempted a "squeeze" play, and would have been successful, if McCourt, who was at the bat had made the least effort to assist. Instead he stood there like a dummy and even stepped out of the way of the catcher as O'Neill reached the plate. McCourt was poorly coached in the fifth inning and tried for home on a hit which was only worth one base. Newton threw away a good opportunity to score in this inning, as Sanderson who followed McCourt, was left on third and Gaw on second when the inning closed. Carr did some fine pitching in the sixth, after Ryan and O'Neill had both made hits, by striking out the next three men. Newton's one run was in the eighth inning, when Ryan, who had hit to left reached home on a couple of passed balls. Two of Brookline's runs were made in the first inning on a couple of base hits, followed by a two bagger. One run coming in the third after a muffed fly by McCourt at right, a steel of second base and passed balls. Three more runs in the ninth, with three base hits in succession, a muffed fly by Gaw because Barry collided with him, and a passed ball. All in all it was a poorly played game from a Newton standpoint, altho the victory was also due to Carr's splendid pitching. 14 men striking out. The delay in starting the game was seemingly inexcusable on a holiday morning. It was fully a half hour after scheduled time before the game was called, and the boys evidently need to be taught punctuality as well as base ball.

The position taken last week by the GRAPHIC that the secretary of the school committee should be a resident of this city has been generally endorsed, many citizens going out of their way to express to the editor their approval of last week's editorial on the subject. Let me suggest that while such expressions are naturally gratifying, as indicating popular approval, a more effective course would be to let your local member of the school committee know what you think on this important matter. Members of the school committee state that they hope to obtain a person, especially fitted for the position by training and education and that the wider the field from which to select, the more likely they are to get the right person. Such reasoning relative to a position like that of City Clerk, would be laughed out of court, and yet the latter office requires as much "special training" as that of secretary of the school committee.
It is a serious reflection on the intelligence of this community, if the school board are compelled to select a non resident for such a position. A wrong impression has been created by first telling the civil service that the salary was $1,000 and no condition as to knowledge of stenography. This has been rectified by the amended notice posted to-day by the Civil Service Commission, stating that the salary will be at least $1,200 and may become $1,800, and that applicants will be examined in stenography and typewriting. Another bad impression was created this week by the boasting of a non resident that his daughter had already been selected for the position and that no one else had a chance for the place. The school committee will do well to clear up the impression that the matter has been prejudged and determined in advance of the civil service examination.

SCHOOL SECRETARY

The Civil Service Commission has posted an amended notice of the coming examination to fill the position of Secretary of the School Committee, albeit the obnoxious waiving of the resident rule has not been changed.
The new requirement includes stenog-raphy and typewriting and the limit of salary is raised to $1,200 with possible increase to $1,800.

The conditions are as follows:— Applicants must be not less than 25 years of age, and will be examined in the following-named subjects: letter-writing; spelling; hand-writing; arithmetic, including interest and discount; experience, training and education; government and United States history; stenography and typewriting; also a paper will be given to test the applicant's facility in preparing records of meetings.

The salary will not exceed $1,200 to begin with, but may be increased to $1,500 or $1,800 per annum at the discretion of the School Committee. The School Committee states that preference in appointment may be given to women, although men who qualify will not be debarred.

MEMORIAL DAY

One Of The Most Beautiful Days Of The Season

Monday was as perfect a day for the Grand Army Veterans as could be imagined. The sky was clear, the breeze just right and Nature smiled at them from every point of view. In the morning details visited the various cemeteries at Centre street, West Newton, Newton Highlands, and Mt. Auburn, placing flowers at the graves of comrades who had passed on. At the Lower Falls, a more impressive service was held, the detail in charge of Senior Vice Commander Hosea Hyde, being escorted by the Butler Boys' Club of the Centenary church of Auburndale to St. Mary's cemetery and from there to the adjoining banks of the Charles River, where the beautiful ceremony of casting flowers on that water in memory of those who died at sea, was performed. At noon the Post assembled at its post hall and were then taken to the Hunnewell Club, where the generous hospitality of the club took the form of an elaborate luncheon and open house. The usual parade was then formed, in charge of Major Fred P. Barnes as chief marshal, as follows:

Platoon of Police, in command of Lieut. Soule.

THE CHIEF MARSHAL.

The Chief of Staff.

The Adjutant General.

Aids and Associate Members.

The Chief Bugler.

Orderlies.

Swift's Band of Waltham.

Cladlin Guard, Company C, 5th

Infantry, M. V. M.

Captain George L. Guilford,

Commanding.

CHARLES WARD POST, No. 62,

GRAND ARMY OF THE REPUBLIC.

J. E. Reid, Post Commander.

Thomas Burnett Camp, No. 16, Legion

Spanish War Veterans.

W. B. Munnell, Commanding.

J. Wiley Edmunds Camp, No. 31, Sons of Veterans.

Emmett W. Robinson, Commanding.

Mrs. A. E. Cunningham Tent, No. 2, Daughters of Veterans.

Miss Katherine R. A. Flood, President.

Mayor Hutchinson and the city government reviewed the procession at the Eliot church, and the route then covered Centre street to Ward street to Commonwealth avenue, and Walnut street to the Newton cemetery, with frequent halts to allow the 53 marching veterans to rest. It was a pretty long march and ought not to be attempted again.

A crowd greeted the arrival of the parade at the beautiful Newton cemetery, which was adorned in all its glory for the occasion. The exercises were held at the Soldiers monument, and aside from the quelling of the baloon whistles of many children, were unusually impressive. A new and charming feature was the posting of four young ladies, each clad in white and carrying a large silk flag, at the four sides of the monument. Streamers of red, white and blue knotted at the left shoulder added greatly to the effect of their presence. The ladies were Miss Frances A. Fitzgerald, Mrs. Alice K. Burns, Mrs. Ella Haskell Greene and Miss Helen Bosworth.

Post Commander James E. Reid was in charge of the exercises which consisted of prayer by the chaplain, the reading of the orders of the day by Adjutant Patton, reports of the various details, the reading of Lincoln's Gettysburg address by Past Commander Wetherbee, the placing of flowers on the monument by members of the post, the city government and the daughters of veterans, lugle calls from different parts of the cemetery, the firing of three rounds of musketry, the singing of America and the benediction by the chaplain.

The parade then re-formed and proceeded to Newtonville, being reviewed opposite the Newton Clubhouse by the Chief Marshal and his staff. At the post hall, a few moments were spent in preparing for the annual banquet which was served soon after in Temple hall. At the head table with Commander Reid were Mayor Hutchinson, Alderman Frank A. Day, Judge J. C. Kennedy, Chief Marshal Barnes, Lieut. Col. Robert Hall Edes, Chaplain S. P. Putnam, Rev. R. P. McDaniell, Rev. E. H. Thresher, Comrade Albert Plummer and Mr. Samuel Ward. After the menu had been thoroughly discussed, the band gave several selections before Commander Reid rapped to order.

He said that the lot of Post 62 had been cast in exceedingly pleasant places—in the high character of its city government—in the extent of the military talent of Newton from which the Post drew its chief marshals each year—in the enthusiasm of the Spanish War Veterans—in the local military company, to do escort duty for the Post, which has been highly honored by that escort—in the splendid camp of Sons of Veterans and the tent of charming Daughters, whose faithful, thoughtful, resourceful and indefatigable work bring joy to our hearts—in the associate members—in the splendid lot of clergymen who assist us in many ways we appreciate.

He then introduced Mayor Hutchinson who said in part:—There are no conflict of emotions on Memorial Day and there is no organized body in the world in which the individual interest of its members is greater than in the Grand Army. And this is our lesson—personal responsibility.

In civic responsibility, we are all interested in Newton, and we at City Hall desire your co-operation and are not disturbed by friendly and intelligent criticism. But you are not relieved from responsibility by electing us to office. Because we have an efficient police department, you do not leave your doors unlocked. Because we have an effective fire department, you still are careful of matches and fires. Why not carry the same principle into other city departments. We want you interested in our schools, in the beauties of our city, to guard its magnificent asset of trees and foliage, and most of all we want you interested in our young men and women, to prepare them for a life where the standards will be greater than ever, where stability will be needed as well as ability.

Major Barnes spoke briefly, saying: I thank you for the honor you have conferred upon me, by choosing me as your Chief Marshal for this day's parade,—it is an honor of which any man may well feel proud.

The Grand old Army of the Republic is growing less in numbers every year, but their patriotism and bravery in keeping untold the greatest country in the world, will never be forgotten, and though your ranks diminish your deeds of valor will remain as an example and proud legacy for future generations.

I well remember the first time I had the honor of parading in the escort for this Post. It was in 1871, as an officer of the Cladlin Guard, with our gray uniforms and big bear skin hats, as Co. L of the First Reg't, being our first appearance in public in uniform, and I believe I have had the honor of parading on the staff nearly every year since.

It is with pride and satisfaction that I see my old company, the Cladlin Guard, with us to-day, and know that they have performed escort duty for this Post every year since, with one exception, I believe, and that was, when they did their duty as soldiers, and were mustered into the United States service for the Spanish War, and though they saw no fighting, as you did, it was not their fault, as they were ready to give up their lives for their country, the same as the soldiers of 1861.

It is very gratifying and appropriate that we have with us on these annual occasions the Spanish War Veterans, Sons of Veterans and Daughters of Veterans, as well as our City Fathers, of which we are all proud, but I miss our High School Battalion, and cannot but feel that it was a mistake in abolishing military instruction in our public schools, as these boys are a nucleus for the government to draw from as volunteers in the future.

Commander W. B. Monzell, of the Spanish War Veterans said that every comrade was glad to be with the G. A. R. on this day, which he believed should be wholly put aside for its ceremonies. He deplored the change of the day of celebration from Sunday, as no day was too sacred for Memorial Day.

Capt. George F. Guilford, of Co. C, said that the Cladlin Guard was always ready to be of all possible assistance to the post. During his 19 years of service he had noted the diminishing parade, and diminishing attendance and thought it due to the absence of the High School battalion, and hoped it would soon be restored.

Commander Emmet W. Robinson of the Sons of Veterans said that the efforts of the Post, their camp was organized and the existing relations were as pleasant as could be.

Miss Katherine R. A. Flood, president of the Tent of Daughters of Veterans, said that Memorial Day is the day of days to you and your comrades, as it is of sacredness and importance to the sons and daughters of veterans. The daughters come to work for you and everything we can do for you will be a pleasure.

Comrade Albert Plummer, who represented the charter members of the post, said that six had passed on, leaving Col. Klugsbury, Hosea Hyde and himself of Charles Ward Post and Comrade Benson now of Buffalo as the sole surviving charter members. It has 123 members to-day and stands for everything good and loyal in the community. Its aim and object had been to add the poor, sick and afflicted comrades and their families and as saw the little boys to-day on the line of march waving their flags, I do not believe that loyalty is dead. Referring again to the Grand Army, Mr. Plummer said that all the friendship in the world is nothing like the grasp of hand of one comrade by another.

Mr. Samuel Ward responded for the Associate members saying in part:—Long live the Spanish War veterans—long live the sons and daughters of veterans—long live Post 62, Grand Army of the Republic. You young people cannot understand the days of

The baccalaureate sermon before the senior class, was preached in Auburndale Congregational church Sunday morning by Rev. Dr. Edward S. Nide, pastor of Mathewson street Methodist church, Providence, the son of the late Bishop Nide. At the commencement exercises Sunday evening, Rev. Dr. George A. Gordon, pastor of the Congregational church, officiated.

The class day exercises on Monday evening, attracted many parents and friends of the young women.

After the processional a formal welcome was given by Miss Florence Swartwout of Port Jarvis, N. Y., the president of the senior class. Miss Florence R. Hudson of Westfield called the roll, and the rest of the indoor exercises included "The Crimson Rose" by Miss Edith Houghton of Red Oak, Ia., the class prophecy by Miss Elsa Rheinstrom of Avondale, Ia., "Last Will and Testament," by Miss Blanche Richmond of Watertown, Ill., "Harzengabe" by Miss Mary B. Wythe of San Jose, Calif., and a farewell address by Miss Charlotte W. Alley of Pasadena, Calif.

The students then marched to the campus, where they first bade farewell with mock ceremony to Karand house, the senior dormitory. Miss Amanda B. Hexter of Victoria, Tex., delivering the address. Next came the formal abandonment of the deer house on the grounds by Miss Louise B. Funkhouser of Evanston, Ill. This was followed by a similar ceremony before Carter hall by Miss Katherine H. Wheeler of Crookston, Ill. Miss Dorothy V. Wells of Greenfield then gave an address, "The Flight of the Scarlet Tanager."

"To the Flames," the final ceremony, led by Miss Maria L. Riker of Harrodsburg, Ky., was for many of the students and guests the most interesting feature. Marching upon a bonfire on the Woodland road side of the campus the seniors circled about the flames, each tossing into the fire a book, toy or some other beloved object. As she deposited her sacrifice each girl solemnly delivered a brief speech, adding to the enjoyment of the unusual ceremony.

Conspicuous among the decorations of the buildings and campus were the senior colors, crimson and gold, and the class flower, the red rose. Colored electric lights and lanterns which hung over the lawns and drives lent brilliancy to the scene.

The senior class officers are: Miss Florence Swartwout, Port Jarvis, N. Y., pres.; Miss Charlotte W. Alley, Pasadena, Calif., vice pres.; Miss Edith Houghton, Red Oak, Ia., sec.; and Miss Dorothy V. Wells, Greenfield, treas. Mrs. Margaret Deland is an honorary member of the class.

The commencement exercises were held in the Congregational church Tuesday forenoon.

The processional played by Miss Mary F. Curless was followed by prayer by Rev. Dr. Francis N. Peloubet. Then came the commencement address by Dr. Bliss Perry of Harvard, whose subject was "Democracy and Excellence."

Dr. Guy M. Winslow, principal of the seminary, presented the diplomas to the 21 members of the senior class, after which the benediction was pronounced by Dr. Peloubet.

Much interest was attached to announcement of award of prizes and special certificates. Miss Stella Mary won first prize in bread making, Miss Edna J. Wald took second prize and Miss Edmonia C. Ellis won honorable mention.

Fifteen girls won certificates. For excellence in four years' work in piano for the certificates were awarded Miss Annie M. Crowe, Miss Annanda B. Hexter, Miss Elsa Rheinstrom, Miss Florence Swartwout, the class president, and Miss Edna J. Wald. For excellence in organ study during four years Miss Annie M. Crowe won her second certificate.

The certificates in household economics were won by Miss Marion W. Eldredge, Miss Edmonia C. Ellis, Miss Isabella R. Farr, Miss Louise B. Funkhouser, Miss Stella W. Henderson, Miss Florence R. Hudson, Miss Elsa Rheinstrom, Miss Edna J. Wald and Miss Dorothy V. Wells.

The seniors presented the seminary a lamp of huge proportions, which will be hung as a class memorial in the main building.

LASELL DRILL

Three companies of young women students in naty uniforms of khaki participated in an exhibition drill Friday afternoon on the Lasell seminary campus at Auburndale. Having been omitted the past two years, the military drill attracted many parents and friends.

With clock like precision the girls took part in company competition, individual competition in the manual of arms and finally in battalion parade. Company competition was won by Co. A, captained by Miss Maria L. Riker. Individual competition was won by Miss Marion W. Harvey of Jamaica Plain, a private in Co. C; Miss Reva L. Berman of San Antonio, Tex., a sergeant in Co. A, winning second prize; and Miss Eleanor R. Laurens of Charlestown, S. C., a private of Co. A, receiving honorable mention.

Prizes were presented by Col. Louis B. Goodall, a member of the staff of Gov. Fernald of Maine, and father of Lieut. Mildred B. Goodall of Co. B of the seminary battalion. The judges were Col. E. Leroy Sweetser, 8th Infantry, M. V. M.; Capt. Robert C. Davis, 17th U. S. Infantry; and Capt. Harry L. Brown, 8th Infantry, M. V. M.

Previous to the competition there was a reception to military guests, among whom were Maj. George I. Canfield of Somerville, Lieut. Irving T. Cutler of Charlestown, First Lieut. C. F. Lyman, Lieut. John Kenny and Second Lieut. H. Douglas Campbell of Boston, they being received by Principal Guy M. Winslow, faculty members and the military instructor, Lieut. Charles A. Randlett, 8th Massachusetts Infantry.

The grounds were gay with banners, balloons and bunting of the colors of the several companies, the color of Co. A being yellow, that of B being red and that of C blue. This was the first time in which three companies had competed.

The battalion officers were: Miss Dorothy A. Chaffee, cadet captain and adjutant and Miss Caroline K. Steinmetz color sergeant. In the individual competition the first round was in command of Adj. Dorothy A. Chaffee. The second round, reduced to 20 girls, was in command of Lieut. Mary A. Gallagher, and the third round next appeared, comprising only six girls, in command of Lieut. Mildred B. Goodall. The students participating were:

NORUMBEGA PARK.

This has been a strenuous week at Norumbega Park. Night and day the busy clang of the hammer and the sigh of the saw has sounded endlessly in the park and hundreds of workmen have been accomplishing the remarkable, probably unprecedented task, of building a theatre in a week. Patrons of Norumbega will sit in the new theatre on Monday afternoon next and see the regular vaudeville performances resumed. While the theatre will be a temporary one in style of construction, it will be just as comfortable in every way as the old one, and the stage thoroughly equipped so that the bills will be given in the same high class manner always maintained at this park. The program for the coming week includes: The Watermelon Trust, the favorite colored headliners; Jones and May, those remarkable mimics who give capital impersonations of Richard Carle, Harry Lauder, Sam Bernard, and Montgomery and Stone; Seymour's happy family of performing dogs; the Eugene Trio, the perfect quix quizzing act; and several new moving pictures. All the other attractions remain the same as before.

Castle Square Theatre—Those who go to the Castle Square next week will see a college play that is one of the best of its kind. It is called "At Yale," and it does for that Connecticut college what "Brown of Harvard" does for our own university across the Charles. Its successive scenes give a lively and rollicking picture of life on the Yale campus and in the Yale student dormitories, and it contains not a little athletic rivalry and excitement. Mingled therewith is a romantic plot in which the hero's character is irradiated by his enemies, and from this entanglement he emerges unscathed. Of course there are beautiful girls—what college play would be complete without them, and they give life and color to the most inspiring scene of all in the play—the great boat race between Yale and Cornell in which Yale comes off victorious, as so usually does in athletics.

HOLD "NEWTON NIGHT"

Baptist Social Union Devotes Last Meeting of Season to Talk on Theological Seminary.

The Boston Baptist Social Union closed its season of monthly meetings at Ford hall Monday evening with President Leonard H. Rhodes in the chair and about 300 members and guests present. Among the latter were three graduates of the Newton theological institution, the 13 members of the senior class and six missionary students, besides Rev. Dr. George E. Horr, the president, and the entire 15 members of the faculty, while the music was by the double quartet of the institution.

To make it more emphatically a "Newton Night," all the addresses related to the institution. The first was by William J. Rutledge of the graduating class, who is about to enter the ministry, and who spoke on "Our Outlook in the Ministry." "The vocation," he said, "is the highest, holiest and most important that man can be engaged in."

Prof. Frederick L. Anderson, D. D., reviewed the past year at Newton. Rev. Dr. P. S. Henson spoke on the topic, "The Generation Following."

BROWN—LEACH

Miss Fannie Grace Leach, daughter of the late James L. Leach, and Mr. George William Brown were quietly married in the Elliot church parlors Wednesday evening. Rev. H. Grant Person, pastor of Elliot church, was the officiating clergyman. The wedding was to have been a quiet family affair at the bride's home on Marlboro street, but the death of her father made it strictly private with only the immediate relatives present. Mr. and Mrs. Brown are both active workers in Elliot church and are well known in the younger society set of Newton. Mr. Brown is assistant paying teller in the First National Bank of Boston. On their return from a trip they will locate in Wrentham for the summer.

POLICE

Hiram H. Hutchinson, the 40-year old man who was arrested last Friday morning in Norumbega Park, while the fire which destroyed the theatre was in progress, and was held by the police as an alleged suspicious character, was charged in court with drunkenness. Chief Inspector Fletcher told the court that investigation had shown that Hutchinson had nothing to do with causing the fire, and that he was acting queerly near the deer park as a result of having partaken of liquor. Judge Bacon placed the case on file.

A CHANCE FOR YOU.

Senator Mulligan and our Representatives at the State House are to be congratulated on the reference to the next General Court of the bill to take from us all the income now received from corporation taxes. The present law, which costs us many thousands of dollars loss of income, is bad enough, but the referred bill would cost us nearly $150,000.

SOCIAL SERVICE LEAGUE

The Playground and Social Service League of Newton Centre has issued the following appeal:

The residents of Newton Centre, in organizing the Playground and Social Service League, are providing an agency through which great good can be done for the children of our village. This League is born of a real need; it will work for the accomplishment of great public benefit; it must get its strength from an interested co-operation of all townspersons.

No town is doing its full duty by the rising generation when it neglects any opportunity to plan for their best development. The rapid growth of the playground movement throughout the country brings to us accumulating evidence of the great place that play rightfully occupies in the wholesome development of the young, and yet a careful investigation into present conditions in our own suburb has revealed to our citizens how small a proportion of our boys get full value from hours out of doors and how many get into the pitfalls that await unoccupied mind and hand. Such an investigation led to public discussion, a public meeting, and to a permanent organization as above shown.

All visitors to our town are impressed with the unusual playground facilities which public foresight has provided. A seventeen acre plot of so great beauty and usefulness within a stone's throw of the schools and the town's centre has hardly an equal in the country. The League proposes to develop the great possibilities of this playground and to employ a trained agent who will give all his time to the work. Careful inquiry has brought to us such a man, and he is to take up his residence here on June 1th.

Mr. William N. Howard has prepared for this sort of work at the International Y. M. C. A. Training School of Springfield, and comes to us with the highest recommendations from the school and the best of reputation among his associates. The League believes that it has secured an exceptional agent for our peculiar needs. Through the courtesy of the school committee, Mr. Howard will have an office in the Mason School, and by City appropriation there is $1,000.00 available to improve the facilities of the playground. It will be Mr. Howard's effort to encourage clean sport and regulate competition; to repress roughness or profanity; to support honesty and fairness in all games; to be a close friend to the boys; and, while helping in their individual needs, to leave to them the training that comes from responsibility and leadership.

The purposes of this League command the interest of every resident, and it asks their financial support.
This year we need:

$1,000.00 for Mr. Howard's salary.

$1,000.00 for a sanitary shelter on the playground.

$500.00 for playground expenses and for developing skating and winter sports.

$500.00 for miscellaneous expenses and for emergencies.

THE PLAYGROUND MOVEMENT

It is not unlikely that this second week of June, 1909, may be in the future looked back upon with special interest and approval by all Newton Centre residents, young and old, for during this week the movement for playground development has taken definite shape and Mr. William N.
Howard from the Springfield Training School has taken up the executive directorship of the village playground, to give trained attention to a work that so many fathers have longed to do, but for which no business man can well spare the time. How much of a town center the playground is likely to become in this new era might have been judged by any one who happened to look out over the field this week, and that mothers and fathers are going to pick up the habit of occasionally walking down over the playground there seems to be little doubt. Last year one would have seen a dozen of the older boys playing ball on the large diamond; on Tuesday last over one hundred boys of all ages could have been counted.
Two ball games were in progress, the quarter mile was being tried, sprints and distance runs, one boy gloried in a 2 ft. increase in his broad jump gained by a little suggestion of better form from the director; the Mason School manual training department had sent down an admirably made set of jumping standards and a stream

1865 THE OLD FIRM 1909
George H. Gregg & Son
FUNERAL DIRECTORS

All the Newtons 296 Walnut St., Newtonville of boys were sailing the bar. Surely a chance for congenial, natural play is the most acceptable and truly valuable opportunity that young American can be given.

The city government are now ready to expend an appropriation of $1,100 on the grounds and the suggestions of the Playground League and their director will help put this generous sum to the best advantage. There will be at least 3 new tennis courts, a second diamond, new back-stops, jumping plots, track repairing and for younger visitors sand boxes, swing, and tilts. City appropriations must, of course, be put entirely into the grounds, and Mr. Howard's salary, the expense of carrying on the work for a year, and the cost of a shelter must be met by the League. The appeal for subscribing membership has this week gone out to all the town and it is expected that Newton Centre will again live up to its reputation for generous and enlightened public spirit.

NEWTON CENTRE'S FOURTH

Never has the announcement of Fourth of July races aroused so much interest as this year and it seems sure that the boys are to have the most interesting meet that the town has ever seen. Although Mr. Howard has this week been giving especial attention to the grammar school delegation which is to compete on Saturday in the Claffin Field sports, beginning next Monday, with 4th of July but 3 weeks away, his advice and help can be had by any who wish to prepare for the local meet. As many entrants for the races in Class III and IV, which includes any boy under 21 resident in any part of Newton Centre or Newton Highlands, will find it more convenient to use the field and track in the evening, Mr. Howard will be on the playground from 7 o'clock till dark on Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings during the next 3 weeks. In the events for younger boys these changes are to be noted: Class I is for boys under 90 lbs. instead of under 100 lbs., and Class II for boys over 90 lbs. The relay races are to be half mile events, 220 yards to each runner. Each team may select its own team colors and report same to Mr. Howard to avoid duplication.

HAM-SHATTUCK

A brilliant wedding took place in First Unitarian church at West Newton Wednesday evening, when Miss Ida Victoria Shattuck, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin F. Shattuck, was married to Representative Harry Howard Ham of Dorchester, the youngest member of the state legislature.

The church was decorated with palms and flowers. The bride was gowned in white satin draped and trimmed with duchess lace, her dress having a court train. She was attended by Miss Agnes E. Shattuck, maid of honor, whose costume was also satin. The bridesmaids were Miss Ednah A. Shattuck, Miss Edith
M. Shattuck, sisters of the bride, Miss Helen A. Washburn of Newton-ville and Miss Carolyn F. Curll of Pittsburg, Penn., gowned in yellow satin with long trains and trimmed with gold crystal.

The best man was Mr. Guy A. Ham of Dorchester, a brother of the groom.
The ceremony took place at 8 o'clock, the officiating clergyman being Rev.
Julian C. Jaynes, the pastor.

The ushers were Representative Ernest E. Hobson of Palmer, Messrs.
Charles S. Emerson, Jr., and William L. Ditchett of Dorchester, Frank R.
Keith of Roxbury, Thomas W. Streeter of Concord, N. H., and Henry D.
Wiggin, Jr., of West Newton. There was a reception from 8 to 10 at the home of the bride's parents, 93 Hillside avenue, which was decorated with roses, daisies and greenery, Mr. and Mrs. Ham being assisted in receiving by Mr. and Mrs. Shattuck and Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Ham.

The bride is particularly well known in the younger set in this city.
She is an enthusiastic follower of golf and automobilism. While at Megansett the past few summers she was a devotee of swimming and yachting.
She is the second of four daughters.
After being graduated from Newton high school in 1906 she attended National park seminary. She is a member of the Phi Delta fraternity and of Brae Burn country club.

The groom is a graduate of Boston Latin school and Dartmouth, '04.
While in college he gained considerable prominence in athletics. His home is at 15 Salcombe street, Dorchester.

Mr. and Mrs. Ham will be at home after Sept. 1st, in Dorchester.

McMULLIN-KIMBALL

Mr. Roy A. McMullin of Newton-ville was married Tuesday morning at All Saints church, Springfield, to Miss Cresta M. Kimball, the daughter of Mrs. A. Ray Kimball of that city and formerly of Newtonville. Rev.
Chas. E. Hill officiated. Mr. and Mrs.
McMullin will reside at Wellesley.

GOLDEN WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. John H. Robinson, well known residents of this city, celebrated their golden wedding at their home on Richardson street, Newton, on Tuesday afternoon from three to six o'clock. Many friends and relatives were present to congratulate them on the event. They were assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Edward P.
Bancroft of New York, who were groomsmen and bridesmaids at the wedding which took place in Boston on June 9, 1859, and at which Rev.
Theodore Cook officiated. Among those present were Mr. C. W. Robinson, a brother, and Miss Warren of Stow, Mass., Mr. Robert J. Gardner, Miss Adeline Gardner, Mr. Chas. W.
Gardner of Cleveland, O., Mr. Charles Marble of Hingham, Mr. Arthur Marble of Lawrence, Major and Mrs. F.
P. Barnes of West Newton and Mr.
G. E. Allen of Newton, all relatives, and guests from California, Ohio, Virginia and New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Robinson made their home in Newton immediately after their marriage and have resided here ever since with the exception of a short stay in Wellesley. During the civil war, Mr. Robinson served as second lieutenant in Co. K, 45th Mass.
Regiment, and saw service in North Carolina. Both Mr. and Mrs. Robinson are members of Eliot church.
Their children, all of whom were present at the reception, are Mrs. E.
L. Moore of Portsmouth, O., Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Robinson of New York, Mr. and Mrs. Richard B. Robinson of Newton and Mr. and Mrs. Philip H.
Robinson of Dorchester.

THE PUDDINGSTONE CLUB

The Puddingstone Club of Boston were the guests of Mr. George H. Ellis last Saturday at Wauwinn Farm, West Newton. The affair was to be their annual field day, but the storm curtailed the usual out door sports and the time previous to lunch was spent in telling stories and inspecting the fine herd of cattle on the farm. After a delightful lunch, Mr.
E. H. Chandler served as toastmaster and remarks were made by Mr. Ellis, Rev. Chas. F. Dole, Mr. Fred H. Tucker, Mr. Chas. H. Ames, Mr. W. C.
Bates, Mr. Head of Nashua, N. H., and Dr. Hartwell of Boston, Mr. Carl Dreftus, Mr. N. C. Fowler, Mr. Stratton, D. Brocks and Mr. Dennis Mc-Carthy recited several beautiful poems. A notable feature of the day was the concert of music (?) given under the direction of Mr. John Orth, the well known composer.

ological Institution, Rev. Dr. George E.
Herr was Wednesday afternoon inaugurated president of the institution in an impressive service held in academic year, the former president, Rev. Dr. Nathan E. Wood, having relinquished his duties last October.

With the church filled by many friends and clergymen the service began at 3.30 with an organ prelude invocation by John Hermann Loud, After

Boston. Dr. Wood then offered prayer, after which Dr. Herr delivered the inaugural address.

question, "Is Theology a Profession?"

JACKSON HOMESTEAD

FAMILY REUNION TO CELEBRATE ITS 100th ANNIVERSARY.

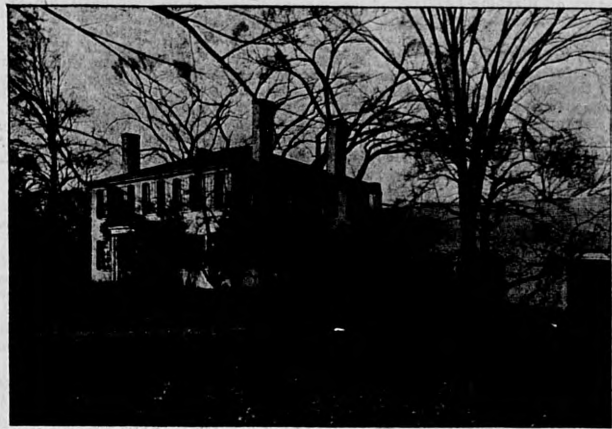

An unusual celebration was that held last Saturday by the Jackson family to mark the one hundredth anniversary of the erection of what has long been known in this city as the "Jackson Homestead" on Washington street, Newton.

Plans for this event have been under way for some time and members of the Jackson family were present from far and near. The weather interfered with the out of door arrangements, but within was the warmest hospitality. Mr. and Mrs. Harry H. Keith, the latter a grand daughter of Hon. William Jackson, a former Congressman from this district, were the host and hostess of the occasion and were assisted in receiving their relatives by Miss Sarah D. Gilbert, another grand-daughter of the Congressman. The reception was from three to six and over one hundred and nine members of the family were present.

Miss Jackson of Newton, Miss Lucretia J. Fuller, Mrs. Francis Murdock, Mrs. J. Henry Bacon, Mrs. Herbert M. Bacon, Mrs. Austin G. Sherman, and Mrs. David Humphrey of Cambridge assisted and nieces and grand-nieces dover, Mr. John A. H. Gilbert, Providence, Mrs. Wm. J. Gilbert, Miss Marion Gilbert, New York, Miss Abby Jackson, New York, Miss Eva Corey, Miss Corey, Brookline, Mr. and Mrs. W. Kirk Corey, Mr. and Mrs. Harold D. Corey, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Struthers, Stamford, Conn., Mr. and Mrs. A. Jackson, Middletown, Conn., Mr. and Mrs. Leighton Coleman, Miss Louise Coleman, Brooklyn, Mr. Bowen B. Smith, New York, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Cram, Miss Florence Bacon, Mrs. Frank C. Babbitt, Hartford, Conn., Mr. David Humphrey, Miss Caroline Humphrey, Mr. Lewis Humphrey, Cambridge, Mr. C. B. Fillebrown, Miss Curtis, Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Smallwood, Mrs. Harry K. Jackson, Miss Helen Jackson, Mr. George Jackson, Boston, Miss Louise Jackson, Miss Frederica Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. Allen W. Jackson, Cambridge, Mr. and Mrs. Edmund H. Tarbell, Miss Louise Tarbell, Miss Anita Tarbell, Mrs. Joel Colby, Miss Louise Sherman, Miss Marion Sherman, Miss Marnette Sherman, Mr. Mrs. Fred S. Sherman, Mr. Leighton Sherman, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. C. Briggs, Mr. Chester Briggs, Miss Mary Jackson, which was erected in 1809, over the well which stood just west of the building erected in 1660 by Edward Jackson. The first home of Edward Jackson was purchased from Simon Bradstreet in 1646 together with 600 acres of land for the sum of 140 pounds. This building was 18 by 24 feet in size. It was enlarged in 1660 and with the present building has been the home of nine generations of the Jackson family. The 1809 house was erected by Major Timothy Jackson of Revolutionary War fame, and its window glass was brought from England, a few panes still remaining in service. The granite was hauled from Quincy by oxen and the brick came from Cambridge. When it was remodelled two years ago, its enormous beams, rafters, and door steps were found perfectly sound and good, and the entire house is constructed in a most substantial manner. During the slavery agitation the house served as an underground railroad station for fugitive slaves, many of whom were hidden in the well in its cellar. The original front door of the 1660 house is used as a side entrance and is of double served refreshments. The house was decorated with old fashioned flowers and many family heirlooms and relics were exhibited. Among those present were Mrs. Harriet Jackson Palmer of Brooklyn, N. Y., the oldest member of the family, Mr. and Mrs. Walter M. Jackson of Surrey, England, Mr. Harold Jackson, Mrs. Edward Jackson, of St. Louis, Mrs. Wm. W. Jackson, Miss Annie A. Jackson, Mrs. A. C. Mohr, Mrs. Henry B. Williams, An-

Miss Laura Jackson, Miss Ella Jackson, Boston, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Jackson, the Misses Jackson, Milton, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. C. Slayton, Mills, Miss Martha Jackson, Mrs. Frank Jackson, Newton, Miss Benner, Mrs. Frank Jackson, Roxbury, Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Vining, Brookline, Mr. Gardner Brooks, Brookline, Rev. and Mrs. Wolcott Calkins and the Misses Spear. The Jackson homestead has an interesting history. The present build-thickness to withstand the attacks of Indians. The outside boards are vertical while the inner boards are horizontal. The old fashioned fireplaces are still in use, and the crane still bears its pots and kettles. The accompanying cut gives an idea of the appearance of the homestead today, altho it cannot give the beauty of the shrubs and flowers which still flourish in the front lawn.

GRACE CHURCH

Important Changes Now Being Made In Organ

Work is progressing rapidly at the factory of the Hook & Hastings Co., Waltham, on the additions and alterations which are to be made to the organ at Grace Church during the coming summer. This organ is one of the oldest organs in the city, and while its tonal qualities are in no way impaired, but on the contrary seem to have improved with age, the mechanical parts have become much worn.

Some weeks ago a contract was made with the above named company, who were the original builders of the organ, whereby it is to be thoroughly remodelled and rebuilt and several additions made to the number of the stops, as a result of which it is anticipated that the effectiveness of the instrument will be greatly increased, and the organ made modern and up to date in every respect, large enough for both service and recital purposes. The present pitch is the old high, or French pitch. This will be lowered to the International Standard which will make the music of the service much more pleasing, and also make it possible when ever so desired, to use any number of orchestral instruments in conjunction with the organ.

The compass of each stop will be increased three notes, making the full compass of every manual stop 61 notes, and each pedal stop 30 notes.

The present cumbersome stop and key action will be removed and in its place the latest tubular-pneumatic action will be installed. This will permit of the rendering of all grades of music no matter how difficult, the touch being as light as that of a piano, so that the only limit to the possibilities of the organ in this regard, will be the technique of the organist. Four new stops will be added to the organ; 16 foot Bomdon and a 3 rank Dolce Cornet Mixture to the Swell, and a 4 foot Flute and an 8 foot Gamba to the Great Organ.

Two new couplers will be added—a Swell to Great Super, and a Swell to Great Sub, by means of which the size of the organ will be practically trebled.

Five new combination pedals will be added—a Piano, Mezzo and Forte Swell, and a Piano and Mezzo Great, by which the entire organ may be controlled, and a large variety of combinations instantly set or released, by the organist, at will, and without removing his hands from the keys.

Another noteworthy addition will be a so called Grand Crescendo Pedal, by means of which every stop and coupler in the organ may be brought into use, or withdrawn, gradually or instantaneously, at the wish of the player.

All these changes and additions will of course require the construction of an entirely new console, or key desk. This will be made of walnut, cabinet finish, to match the present finish of the organ and chancel furnishings. It will be located several feet nearer the organ than the present console, which will take it entirely out of the chancel and thereby make room for the addition of four seats to the choir stalls. It will be of the latest pattern and will contain every accessory and facility known to the art of organ building to bring the entire organ under the complete and instantaneous control of the organist.

The couplers will be tilting tablets and arranged in a single row over the Swell Manual.

The stops will be in the form of bevelled knobs and will be arranged in three circular tiers on each side of the manuals so that every stop will be plainly visible to, and within easy reach of the organist. There will be above the manuals the Wind and Grand Crescendo Indicators.

The Grand Crescendo and Balance Swell Pedals will be located in the middle of the console above the pedal keys, and will be flanked on the one side by the Great Organ Combination Pedals, and on the other by those of the Swell Organ. In addition to these pedals there will also be a Reversible Great to Pedal Coupler and a Tremolo Pedal.

The pedal keyboard will be thoroughly modern, both radiating and concave.

It is expected that the work of dismantling the old organ will begin early in July and that the new organ will be ready for use sometime during the month of August, when a new epoch will be marked in the music of this church, which has already achieved and maintained such a fine reputation in this regard.

The present choir is made up of 36 men and boys, and is under the direction of Mr. Charles N. Sladen.

The organist, Mr. Wm. G. Hambleton, has in view a series of recitals which he hopes to give during the coming fall and winter, at which he will have the assistance of a number of well known vocal and instrumental artists.

The following detailed specifications will give the reader an idea of the size and possibilities of the new organ:

THEATRES

Keith's Theatre—The darling of Mr. Keith in presenting Vesta Tilley, the three thousand dollar a week star, and the vaudeville bills in keeping, for a summer attraction, was fully justified after all, for there has not been in Boston an attraction that equals this brilliant young woman. Miss Tilley has a striking personality and a winning way about her, and the most fascinating figure in men's clothes. Hundreds of persons have visited Keith's day after day to hear and see this young English woman, and next week they will have an opportunity to hear her in new songs. If Miss Tilley were not on the bill, the Great Lester, the ventriloquist from the West, who carried New York by storm a few weeks ago, would be sufficient attraction to draw crowded houses. Lester has only one dummy, but it is one that will be remembered. An exceptionally good musical act will be that of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Voelker. Others will be Kelly and Barrett in "The Battle of Too Soon," Hayes and Johnson, Cornalia and Eddie, Patsy Doyle and the Hess Sisters.

Tremont Theatre—It is very easy to understand why "A Broken Idol," now at the Tremont Theatre, had such a phenomenal run in Chicago, for it is a typical musical extravaganza that must be seen to be appreciated. There is a real plot in this charming farce, as it is called. It tells of a little Chinese wife living in the Chinatown of Los Angeles who is deserted by her white husband. He falls in love with an American heiress. The American heiress is in love with a newspaper man who hasn't any money which shows that he is a real reporter. The bad man tries to have the young man arrested for theft, but little Sing We, the Chinese girl, makes all turn out happily and gets her funny husband back. The plot amounts to little, but the girls and the colors and the sumptuous costumes and the beautiful stage settings are delightful.

Orpheum Theatre—Lovers of stock productions will sincerely welcome the announcement that the Lindsay Morrison Stock Company, composed of big Boston favorites will open the summer season at the Orpheum Theatre next Monday matinee with Geo. W. Broadhurst's screaming farce, "What Happened to Jones." The leading male role will be taken by Howell Hansel, who is too well known as Boston's own favorite to need any comment. In the matter of a leading lady, Mr. Morrison has been most fortunate in securing Edna Bruns. She is possessed of great beauty, a wonderful voice both speaking and singing and an irresistible personality. Other members of Mr. Morrison's all star summer cast will be Mary Sanders, who is another of Boston's favorites, Walter Walker, Catherine Clinton, Rose Morrison, Beverly West, James L. Seeley, William J. Hasson, Marion Morrill, Wyeley Birch and others. The stage director will be Joseph W. Walsh, whose past experiences guarantee the most artistic productions. Strictly popular summer prices will rule, being fifty cents, twenty-five cents and fifteen cents, both matinee and evening with nothing higher.

NEW IDEAS IN HOME FURNISHING

Time was when the furniture stores showed the same unattractive uncomfortable patterns the year round. Now in the up-to-date shops instead of ornate and poorly proportioned designs one sees reproductions of the old historic pieces or the simple but full lines of the "new art." Morris and Butler, the well known firm at 97 Summer street, have gradually eliminated everything from their stock except furniture of unquestioned merit. Those who have not visited their warerooms this season have little idea of the values being given. Solid mahogany tables at less price than is generally asked for, veneered or solid mahogany. High grade brass bedsteads retailing at what would ordinarily be considered a fair wholesale price. Solid mahogany dining tables with oil finished tops, cost no more here than the carelessly shined ones do in many places.

Morris and Butler have for many years been noted as manufacturers of mattresses and springs. They are selling 45 pound hand laid pure horse hair mattresses at the same price as the "stuffed" in the old fashioned way. During the spring months this firm devotes much time and space to tasty and inexpensive furniture suitable for Summer Homes. Their display of Willow Furniture is remarkable not only for the variety of pieces shown, but also for the moderate prices prevailing. One large wing chair is actually one-third less than the price asked by other dealers. One may spend much time looking over the stock shown on the five great floors of this enterprising firm and visitors are made to feel at home. A force of courteous, experienced salesmen is in attendance to offer helpful suggestions for furnishing.

FALL-STUART

The marriage of Miss Mary Regina Stuart, the daughter of Deputy Street Commissioner and Mrs. George E. Stuart to Dr. Edward Fall of Newton took place at ten o'clock Wednesday morning at the Church of Our Lady, which was crowded with the many friends of the young couple. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Michael Dolan, pastor of the church. The bride being given in marriage by her father. She wore an imported gown of Irish poplin silk with trimmings of Limerick lace, and made en train. Her veil was caught with lilies of the valley and she carried a bouquet of the same beautiful flowers. Miss Lillian Stuart, her sister, was maid of honor and wore pink voile over taffeta made with tulle. The bridesmaids, Miss Marguerite Stuart of Newton, a cousin, and Miss Annie A. O'Donnell of Fall River, wore lingerie dresses over taffeta, pink picture hats and carried pink roses. Dr. George Mahoney of East Boston was the best man and Dr. James O'Brien of South Framingham, Dr. James Gilday of Everett, Mr. Howard O'Grady of Newton and Mr. Edward Burke of Natick were the ushers. Mr. Charles Stuart, brother of the bride was master of ceremonies and sang a solo during the service. After the ceremony, a solemn high nuptial mass was celebrated with Father Dolan as celebrant, Father Kelly as deacon and Father Malone as sub-deacon. A reception for relatives followed at the home of the bride's parents on Cabot parkway, Dr. and Mrs. Fall being assisted in receiving by Mr. and Mrs. Stuart and Mrs. Elizabeth Fall. The house was beautifully decorated with pink and green festoons and carnations.

After a wedding trip to Atlantic City, Dr. and Mrs. Fall will reside at 2 Boyd street, Newton, where they will be at home after September first. The bride is well known in this city, where she has been a teacher in the Newton schools. The groom is a well known dentist of the city.

FIELD DAY

An enlivening hand engine contest between the Nonantum tub of Newton and the Watch City of Waltham, which was won by the Newton crew of veteran firemen, was a feature of the first field day of Newton Catholic Club at West Newton yesterday.

During the afternoon the Catholic Club team played a seven-inning baseball game with Waltham Knights of Columbus team, the home team winning out, 8 to 3. O'Neil, whose hitting was a feature, was elected captain of the Catholic Club team after the game. The score:

1 2 3 4 5 6 7—R H E

Waltham 0 0 0 1 2 0—3 7 5

Newton 0 0 0 3 0 2 0—8 10 5

Batteries—McCourt and Lyons, Coy and Morgan.

There were many attractions of a typical country fair, and the various booths presided over by young men and women were liberally patronized.

Three performances of a minstrel show were given in the afternoon and evening, the interlocutor being Thomas Davis and the ends Charles McCarthy, John Kelly, Angus McNeil and Joseph Hargodon.

Miss Gertrude Quilly was pianist, and F. L. Cunningham directed a chorus comprising Miss Frances Cavanaugh, Miss Eva Quilly, Miss Bertha Neagle, Miss Agnes Hargodon, Miss Louise Hargodon, Miss Della O'Halloran, Miss Genevieve Kneeland, Thomas Noone, Joseph Coleman, John Nelson, Jr., William Lyons and Joseph Stevenson.

Chief Johnson of Waltham, Chief Randlett and Asst. Chief Holmes of Newton were officials at the contest for a purse between the Watch City and Nonantum engine crews.

The Newton veterans had three trials first sending a stream 217 ft. 2 in. The Watch City crew then had 15 minutes in which to make several tries to better this score, but succeeded in sending the best stream only 202 ft. 8 3/4 in.

The general committee of arrangements comprised Pres. John P. Conors, T. C. Hickey, Frank J. Kelly, Augustin McGrath, James Ferrick, Joseph Walsh, Thomas Donovan, James R. Condrin, William Cahill, Milo Hargodon and Richard Lyons. There were many on the subcommittees who assisted in making the affair a success.

Author of the Human Limit

When a person undertakes to do anything he is impressed with the desirability of effort in some particular direction. Before he can exercise the powers of volition, he must have a reason for directing those powers for some purpose. The more definite and distinct this purpose appears to him the stronger the force of will which he brings to bear upon the purpose or motive. Distinctness and definiteness of motive means its strength and force of volition activity which he can exercise.

Human development in any given direction depends upon motive, and the force which may be brought to bear upon it is determined by the clear and distinct manner in which the purpose is held before the consciousness.

If we are to seek, grasp and retain a higher type of being, we must have a clearly defined motive in view.

The question before us is, Why do we desire greater and more perfect development?

We will endeavor to answer this question, for if we are ever to have clearness of vision, we must strive to begin clearly.

There is inherent in every human being a strong desire to grow into something different from that special type of personality which presents itself to consciousness as self. This desire is a craving for change. As a race of beings we have an incessant appetite for a greater diversity in the external world, which appeals to the senses and which stirs the body into greater activity, provides food for thought and entertains and exercises the emotions. Nature, as well as human nature, will not be satisfied unless she is forever exhibiting her beauties in multitudinous and constantly varying forms. We, the children of Nature, derive both profit and pleasure from the contemplation of the countless variety of ways through which she speaks to us. Man follows out the plan of Nature by devising for himself more combinations and is led into all sorts of notions, extravagant and otherwise, under the plea that "Variety is the spice of life."

There is a deeper meaning than "spice" implies, in life's variations. The law which underlies this human tendency is the law of growth. All vegetation is swayed by winds and storms, by temperature, light, sound and humidity, all constantly varying in degree; and it not only accommodates itself to whatever comes along, but it is safe to assume that without these disturbing influences it would soon be in a less flourishing condition. This is as true of man as it is of vegetation. The inherent desire for variety and change which he obeys is a desire for growth. It is the impelling force of evolution which pervades all things and urges them onward toward more highly perfected forms. Diversified knowledge perfects the intellect; diversified physical exercise perfects the body; diversified emotions perfect the motive force of the social nature. We, therefore, desire greater and more perfect development in all directions because growth according to change is a law of Nature; and we are not satisfied with ourselves unless we obey the laws under which we retain our hold on life.

The strongest human motive, then, is an inherent craving for something beyond mere self-preservation. It implies a general dissatisfaction with anything short of a constant growth into a larger and more complete life capacity. The evolutionary motive which man intelligently adopts as his highest purpose moves him along the lines of least resistance, from a less evolved into a more evolved type of being.

But this variety which so appeals to us because of its developing power is grossly misunderstood by almost every person. A part of the truth has been realized. It may be said that all parts of the truth have been, and are, fully understood as parts. But the whole has eluded the consciousness from lack of seeing power. It is easy to understand why this might be. A person looking at a triangular monument could hardly determine its number of sides from any single point of view.

People are looking at threefold life from different points, and unthinkingly assume that they are contemplating the whole. The mental, emotional and physical parts of man, while all being fed and stimulated by variety, must be united in the leading motive in each; and the only motive which is common to his threefold self is desire for growth and development.

Any system of education, social or otherwise, that provides for equal growth, socially, intellectually and physically with one distinct ultimate motive of ideal manhood and womanhood, is in harmony with all of Nature's laws, and such all-round culture is practical to the core in the affairs of everyday life.

PIANO RECITAL

The hall of the Hunnewell Club was well filled with relatives and friends of the pupils of Mr. Henry T. Wade last Tuesday afternoon when the first of a series of two piano recitals was given. The reputation of Mr. Wade as a careful and thorough teacher was amply demonstrated in the excellence of the work of each, and the selections were taken from well known composers. Miss Isabelle Melville, contralto soloist, assisted with two groups of songs. The pupils participating were Helen Collins, James, Grace Louise Franklin, Lillian Marie Dalgier, Robson Reid, Marguerite Eugenia Porter, Margaret Braham Dewey, F. Ashley Day, Jr., F. Sawyer Bacon, Emily Wellington, Elizabeth Clark Fuller, Marion Olivia Campbell and Walter Irving Tibbets. The second recital will be held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Hunnewell Club.

GRAMMAR SCHOOL MEET

Nearly 500 boys from the different grammar schools of the city took part in the first athletic meet, held on Claffin field, Newtonville, last Saturday morning, under the direction of Dr. A. D. Brown, the director of physical training. Members of the high school track team acted as officials.

The events were in three classes, nearly every school having senior, intermediate and junior teams. As the meet progressed it became an interesting race for honors between the Bigelow school athletes of Newton and those of the Mason school of Newton Centre, but the "north side" athletes finally proved their supremacy.

Shields were awarded the winning schools. Bigelow school of Newton had 53 points in the three classes, Mason of Newton Centre had 38 and Stearns of Nonantum took third place with 11 points. The summary:

ATHLETIC MEET

The athletic meet on June 12 between the Waban Prep. school and Newton Lower Falls A. C. was won by Waban, 43-38. Warren Calden, Robert Enholm and William Fitzgerald were the only members of the Lower Falls team to show up and the game struggle they made for a victory is evident by the score. The most sensational finish of the day was in the half mile which the judges declared a dead heat between Enholm and Dolliver. Warren Calden, the star Lower Falls sprinter, after a poor start in the 100 yds. came through the tape a winner in 10 4-5 sec, the best time performance of the afternoon. He would have undoubtedly repeated his win in the 220 yds. dash had he not been penalized 6 ft. for false starts though at one stage of the race it looked as if he would pass Brown of Waban who won in 23 4-5 sec. The mile was a hollow win for Waban, Lower Falls having no entries. Summary:

100-yd. dash—(1) Calden (L. F.)—2 Brown (W.)—3 Enholm (L. F.)—10 4-5 sec.

220-yd. dash—1 Brown (W.)—2 Calden (L. F.)—3 Enholm (L. F.)—23 4-5 sec.

440-yd. dash—1 Enholm (L. F.)—2 Dolliver (W.)—3 Jackson (W.)—1 min. 4 sec.

880-yd. run—Dead heat between Enholm and Dolliver—3 Calden (L. F.)—2 min. 25 sec.

1 mile run—1 Dolliver (W.)—2 Jackson (W.)—3 Bradford (W.)—5 min. 58 sec.

High jump—1 Henri (W.) 5 ft. 2 in.—2 Brown (W.) 5 ft.—3 Enholm (L. F.) 4 ft. 11 in.

Pole vault—1 Brown (W.) 8 ft. 7 in.—2 Calden (L. F.) 8 ft. 4 in.—3 Henri (W.) 7 ft. 6 in.

Broad jump—The between Brown and Enholm at 17 ft. 6 in.—3 Calden (L. F.) 16 ft. 11 in.

16-lb. shot put—1 Enholm (L. F.) 31 ft. 3 in.—2 Calden (L. F.) 30 ft. 9 in.—3 Fitzgerald (L. F.) 30 ft. 3 in.

BASE BALL FOR FUN

The annual base ball contest between teams of the Central church and of the Universalist church is always an interesting event in Newtonville, the effects of which, especially on the players, last for many a day. The game this year was played Saturday afternoon on Claffin field, the Central club winning out, 15 to 7.

The Congregational players bunched hits in the first inning and got a lead that the Universalists were unable to overcome. Patey pitched an excellent game for the winners, while for the losing side the playing of Shaw was a feature, he making several fine catches in right field. The teams lined up as follows:

Central Congregational—Patey p. McAllister c. Lyon 1b. Somers 2b. Tucker 3b. Boyden ss. Atkins lf. Auryansen cf. Bevan rf.

First Universalist—Cook p. Brown c. Hancher 1b. Grant 2b. Atwood 3b. Billings ss. Cabot lf. Westcott cf. Shaw rf.

COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES

Many parents and friends gathered in the assembly hall last Friday afternoon to witness the commencement exercises which brought to a successful end the 56th year of the Allen School of West Newton.

The address to the students was by Rev. William I. Lawrence, pastor of the Unitarian church, Winchester, who gave the young men kindly counsel and sound advice for their future careers. Prayer was offered by Rev. Mr. Lawrence, and the musical program included songs by Miss Arcotowska of Brussels, organ selections by Charles L. Johnson, harp selections by Miss Harriette Shaw of Boston Symphony orchestra and vocal selections by Howard W. Lyman.

There were presented to the school library 100 volumes of biography, history and memoirs by Rev. Clay MacCauley of Boston, who was recently appointed to take charge of the Unitarian movement in Japan. William H. Mason, president of the senior class, presented the school with a beautiful engraving.

Principal Everett Starr Jones awarded the prizes as follows: William H. Mason, highest rank of senior class; Charles E. Arnold, excellence in manual training; George B. Arnold, drawing; Charles H. Lawrence, best English literature note book; William H. Mason, best chemistry note book; Thomas D. Swift, best physics note book; Alfred B. King, excellence in athletics.

Three members of the junior school also won prizes, James H. Clark having the highest rank in academic work; Lee T. Estabrook, excellence in drawing, and James H. Clark having performed the best work in manual training.

The graduating class was as follows: Kennedy Boardman, New York; Horace P. Curlliss, Norwalk, Conn.; Alfred B. King, Kingston, Mass.; Evelyn T. King, Kingston, Mass.; Elwyn B. Lynde, Westminister, Mass.; Alton W. Mabry, Watertown; William H. Mason, Brookline; Stuart D. Perkins, Kansas City; Dwight O'Hara, Waltham; Burdick N. Richardson, Davenport, Ia.; Maurice W. Salomanson, West Newton; Harold B. Smille, Newtonville; Thomas D. Swift, Pittsfield; Marcus M. Whitney, Winchendon.

Particularly interesting was the exhibition of work of the younger students in the manual training courses, a number of miniature yachts and motor boats being shown as a result of the labors. In the evening there was an outdoor concert by the glee and mandolin clubs, and dancing in the gymnasium.

N. H. S.

Graduating exercises for the class of 1909, Newton high school will take place on Saturday, June 26, in the assembly hall. Miss Margaret Tyler will be the salutatorian, having the highest average for the past four years. Miss Katherine Norton will be historian. Lawrence Bevans has the highest rank in the scientific department, Miss Evelyn Wells, the highest in the classical and John Kelly in the commercial department. Prescott Wellman is the class orator, Edward A. Davis, the class prophet, Carl F. Hawes, Jr., the statistician, and Miss Mary P. Damon, the class poet. Miss Damon has written the class hymn and the music was written by Miss Mattie E. Gifford. The class officers are Mr. F. L. Converse, president; Miss Virginia Tapley, vice president; Mr. E. A. Davis, treasurer, and Miss Ruth King, secretary.

Newton went to Waltham on Saturday to play a return game of their annual series and defeated the home team 3-0, playing in the best form which they have played this season. The game was exciting at all times and kept the 6,000 spectators keyed right up to the highest pitch of excitement. For Newton the catching and all round playing of Jim Ryan was in a large way responsible for her victory. His throwing men out at second was perfect and he ran his team well, having had charge of the team since Capt. "Buck" Donahue was injured. Sanderson, at base for Newton, made two fine catches of foul flies over third base, one of which kept Waltham from scoring. In fact the whole team fielded finely. Barry making the only error made by Newton. "Tip" O'Neil's batting was also a big factor in winning the game, he getting three hits out of four times up. For Waltham Jack Leary played a fine game and saved his team from a worse defeat.

Newton clearly demonstrated that they were the better team, as they outbatted, outfielded, and played rings around Waltham.

Errors were partly responsible for the runs scored by Newton. In the third inning Sanderson made first base on an error by Smith, and advanced to second on a sacrifice by Gallagher, while Woods scored him on a two-base hit. Newton's second run was scored in the fourth inning. Fripp batted a grounder which Duffy failed to handle; Sanderson went to first on a fielder's choice, Barry throwing Fripp out at second; Sanderson attempted a steal to second and made good, as Leary's throw was high; Gallagher struck out; Woods batted a fly to right field and Tabor dropped it; Sanderson, scoring on the same, was caught by Leary.

The third run by Newton was scored in the sixth inning. O'Neil opened with a single, and advanced to second on a sacrifice by Fripp; Sanderson batted a single, scoring O'Neil; Gallagher sacrificed; and Woods failed to reach first on a grounder fielded by Smith.

After the game the Newton rooters gave the team a great ovation, although everything was orderly.

The lack of candidates for the position of secretary of the school committee can be attributed to either of two causes. The first, and I believe the more important cause was the impression which the public received—unofficial, of course, but still definite enough to bear some plausibility—that the matter had been settled in advance of the examination, and that it would be waste of time for others to make application. The second reason was the vacillating action of the Civil Service Commission in posting two notices of the examination, the second changing the requirements stated in the first. I still see no reason to change the attitude taken in these columns from the first that this position should, as a matter of course be filled by a resident of this city.
The charge of provincialism which can be made at this is not so heinous as the impression that Newton cannot fill a $1,500 position from its own citizens.

UNDER THE GILDED DOME

Hon. Albert L. Harwood of Newton Centre who was the target last fall of the Democratic candidate for governor, James H. Vahey, has been completely exonerated by the report just made to the Senate by the Joint Committee on Ways and Means. The report follows, a few extraneous paragraphs being omitted.

The joint committee on Ways and Means, to whom was referred the petition of James H. Vahey for legislation to provide for an investigation of the business of the various departments and commissions of the Commonwealth, in reporting their recommendation that the petitioner be given leave to withdraw, deem it proper, in view of certain serious charges made by the petitioner, to make a special report concerning those charges.
One of these charges was in substance that Albert L. Harwood, Chairman of the Board of Trustees of the School for the Feeble Minded, had acted as counsel for the owners of certain property which was sold to the Commonwealth for the use of the School for the Feeble Minded; that this property and other property purchased for the school at Wrentham had been purchased at a price much in excess of its real value; that the purchase price of this property and other properties had been paid over to Mr. Harwood as counsel for the grantors; and that of the eight thousand dollars paid by the Commonwealth for the property of Lillian K.
P. and Percy S. Farrar, which money was paid over to Mr. Harwood as their counsel, Mr. Harwood had retained or failed to account for about three thousand dollars.

Mr. Harwood and several of the trustees of the School for the Feeble Minded appeared before the committee and testified concerning the purchase of the various properties at Wrentham, including the Farrar property. From their testimony it appeared that Mr. Harwood suggested to his fellow trustees that they should go over to Wrentham and look over the property. Mr. James and Mr.
Connors of the Board accordingly accompanied Mr. Harwood to Wrentham, where they were shown the Farrar estate by Percy S. Farrar. When the question arose as to the desirability of the land and the proper price therefor, Mr. Harwood explained to his fellow trustees that he had acted in certain matters as counsel for the owners of the property, though never in connection with the Wrentham property, concerning which he had no knowledge prior to that visit, except that the Farrars had such a property, and that he should decline to act with them in the matter of deciding as to the desirability of the location or the price therefor. The other trustees, acting without his cooperation, deemed the place a suitable one for the purposes of the School, and the price asked for the Farrar property, $8,000, to be a fair price. While the price paid for the properties was generally in excess of assessed valuations, the committee is of the opinion that the price paid was not in excess of the fair valuation thereof, and that the purchases were wisely made. The charge that certain property was bought at sixteen times its assessed value was without foundation. The property in question was located in two towns, and a very small part thereof Wrentham. The charge was based on the purchase price of the whole and the assessed valuation in Wrentham.

With regard to Mr. Harwood's relations with Lillian K. P. Farrar and Percy S. Farrar, as counsel, the committee finds that Mr. Harwood had never acted as counsel for them in connection with the Wrentham property prior to its purchase by the Commonwealth and the records of considerable litigation with regard to this property in none of which he appeared as counsel help to sustain this finding. It appears, however, that after the agreement to purchase had been concluded and the time was ripe for passing title to the Commonwealth, that Lillian K. P. and Percy S. Farrar, and one Wilson, who also was selling to the Commonwealth, together with other parties interested in their lands by virtue of mortgages or execution sales, requested Mr. Harwood to collect the amounts due them from the Commonwealth, and to divide said moneys among the parties in interest, and gave him orders enabling him so to do. Accordingly Mr.

Harwood collected these amounts, $8,000 for the Farrar estate and $2,900 for the Wilson estate. Of the $2,900 paid Mr. Harwood on account of the Wilson property $714 was paid to satisfy a mortgage; Wilson was paid $2,185.42; the cost of discharging the mortgage on the records was fifty cents, and eight cents was spent for postage. Of the $8,000 paid on account of the Farrar estate, the sum of $1,505 was paid to Artemas Willard and Frank E. Snow and others by their order for the interest they had obtained by purchase at Sheriff's sale of the interests of Waldo Farrar, a brother of Lillian K. P. and Percy S. Farrar; $56.74 was paid for taxes and $10 was paid to W. F. Bacon for legal services. The payment of these sums left the sum of $6,482.26 due Lillian K. P. and Percy S. Farrar, or $3,241.13 due each. By order of Percy S. Farrar, Mr. Harwood paid out his share of the money, partly to him direct, partly to the concern of which Mr. Farrar was manager, and partly to creditors of Mr. Farrar. The total amount so paid out on Mr. Farrar's order was $3,219.48, or slightly more than his share of the estate. There were no payments to Mr. Harwood of any part of this money. April 20, 1907, Mr. Farrar gave to Mr. Harwood a receipt in full for his share of the estate, which by an error in the figures, was reckoned at $2,216.76. He left a considerable part of the money at that time, however, in Mr. Har-wood's hands to be paid out later by his order. The last payment of this money in Mr. Harwood's hands was made August 13, 1907. A full account of all moneys paid out by Mr. Harwood on Mr. Farrar's order has been submitted to the Committee, bearing the following endorsement:

"I hereby certify that the accounts contained here are correct and that all payments made to me personally were paid on my order given Apr. 9, 1907."
(Signed) Percy S. Farrar.

Mar. 19, 1907.
The share of Lillian K. P. Farrar was handled in much the same way by Mr. Harwood. She gave him a receipt in full for her share of the property April 20, 1907, and directed him to hold what had not already been paid over to her subject to her order.
Mr. Harwood's account of her share shows payments to her and by her order of $3,155, and a balance Dec. 1, 1907, subject to her order of $59.13, total $3,214.13, and this account is certified as correct by Lillian K. P.
Farrar.

There is no evidence to show that Mr. Harwood ever received anything for acting for the Farrars in this transaction, and there is much evidence, which the committee consider conclusive, that he did not. His accounts are perfectly straight and above criticism, in so far as his dispositions of the money received is concerned, and the committee consider the charge that he retained a considerable portion or any part thereof to have been completely refuted. As a matter of fact, no evidence to sustain the charge was presented and the charges might well have been dismissed without the necessary proof of their lack of foundation. The committee, however, have deemed it wise to clear up the whole matter completely, and to present the refutation of the charges in its report.

The committee is therefore of the opinion that the charge that the Wrentham property was purchased for much more than its real value has no substantial foundation, and that the trustees were without blame in the matter, and acted for the best interests of the Commonwealth; that the charge that Mr. Harwood had retained or failed to account for the sum of three thousand dollars or any part of the purchase price was baseless, and completely refuted by the evidence. The other charge, that Mr.
Harwood acted as counsel for the Far-ars in the matter, is refuted in so far as it concerns the negotiations for the purchase of the property, or in selecting the Wrentham site for the School. The committee feels, however, that Mr. Harwood was not in the exercise of good judgment to act as attorney for any of the parties in receiving for them the amounts paid by the Commonwealth for the lands, and that while his acts as such attorney were not only done with all honesty and integrity, but also without any compensation whatever, such a course on his part might be open to criticism as tending to throw suspicion on the transaction.

The bill to assess the state tax carries a total this year of a million less than in 1908, Newton's assessment being $91,755 instead of $112,115, a saving of over $20,000 for which the city should be duly grateful. The reduction is said to be caused by an increase of a half million in receipts and a saving of the same amount in expenditures, to be credited to Governor Draper. Let the good work go on.

MERRYMAKERS' MASQUE

The center of interest for Newton-ville people last Saturday was the Merry-makers' Masque, an all day affair, held in the Methodist church and about the grounds which were covered in making a large tent for the occasion. It was the second one given by the Sunday school and nearly one thousand dollars was raised for the benefit of Richland, the New England Deaconess fresh air home at Haverhill. Last season over 900 children were given one week's outing at the home, the Newtonville school bearing the greater part of the expense. The entertainment was started at 6.30, when for two hours breakfast was served many patrons. The masque was opened at 10 o'clock and among the numerous attractions were a grand parade of all the merry-makers in costume, the "Pixies," performers, the Fresh Air Children's Entertainment, given by children from Richland, a vaudeville show and "Seeling Newtonville," in automobiles. The automobile trips were taken frequently and were very popular.

THEATRES

Kelth's Theatre—One of those all round vaudeville bills that has made Kelth's Boston Theatre famous the world over is announced for the week of June 21st, for it is made up of favorites, some of them favorites of the legitimate stage, while there are a number of features of particular moment. Ralph C. Herz when he appeared at this house over a year ago made one of the biggest hits of any comedian who has ever entered vaudeville from the legitimate field. Another favorite locally is Eva Taylor, who was one of the most popular members of the old Castle Square Stock Company and has since made such a hit in vaudeville with a sketch called "Chums." Another star out of the real vaudeville sort is the Millman Trio, which has been declared to be the greatest company of slack wire walkers this country has ever seen. Still another important feature will be contributed by Augusta Glose, who attained the distinction of being the original pianologist. The bill abounds in good features including the Escheronoff Animals; the Ollivotti Troubadours with their wonderful violinist; Mack and Phelps; Swan and Bamford; and that most amusing fellow, Rastus Brown.

Orpheum Theatre—The Linsay Morison Stock Company at the Orpheum Theatre will next week present that prettiest of all rural plays, "Home Folks," a four-act drama. This play has been pronounced by competent critics to be better than the "The Old Homestead," which, of course, is stating a great deal when the tremendous popularity of Denman Thompson's remarkable play is taken into consideration. However, that may be, "Home Folks" is about as delightful a picture of rural life as it is possible to place on a stage.
Through it all runs a love story in which there is intrigue and deception, but it of course ends happily. Howell Hansel will play the part of John Selby, the Illinois farmer, while Edna Bruns will essay the character of Ruth Clayton. William Hanson will play old Nat Niels, the richest man in Red Oak township, while James L.
Seeley will be seen as old Nat's nephew. Mary Sanders will be seen in one of her favorite boy parts as Bert Hopkins the nephew of Mr. Selby's hired girl. Other prominent favorites in the cast will be Walter Walker, Rose Morrison, Katherine Clinton, James Devine, Wyrley Birch, Louis Thiel and others.

Castle Square Theatre—The fame of "Florodora" is so great that the mere mention of its coming production at the Castle Square is sufficient to turn all eyes in that direction.
After several weeks' rehearsal, the opening performance will come on Monday evening, and there is every sign that the theatre will be crowded with happy throngs of summer entertainment seekers every afternoon and evening. "Florodora" offers the best of opportunities for spectacular show and costume effects, its two acts transporting the observer from the Philippines to Wales, and telling a comic story that is bound to arouse incessant laughter. Mr. Craig has engaged a special chorus of forty singers to take part in "Florodora," and the famous sextette will be made even more famous as it is sung and acted by the dancers and singers especially selected for it.

NORUMBEGA PARK.

They kept their promise to the letter out at Norumbega Park and built the new theatre in just one week. It was a big undertaking—a feat that probably has never been accomplished before, and never even attempted. It meant two big forces of carpenters and other skilled laborers working night and day without a minute's interruption to get the theatre finished in time for Monday's performance, but it was done just as they promised it would be. There, where a little over a week ago were nothing but the charred remains of the magnificent $20,000 theatre with the great steel gliders twisted into fantastic shapes, had sprung up an entirely new and complete theatre seating 3,000 people, and boasting of a perfectly equipped stage. While it is only a temporary theatre for this summer, the plans now being drawn for an elaborate new theatre built entire of steel and cement for the next season, it has all the accommodations of the theatre lost by fire, and the patrons will be just as comfortable as before while the high class vaudeville performances will be given on the stage adequately in every detail.

BOARD OF ALDERMEN

President Weston was in the chair at the regular meeting of the board of aldermen on Monday night and Aldermen Avery, Burr, Cabot, Clarke, Day, Doherty, Gray, Jones, Leonard, Lyons, Moore and Underwood were also present.

Hearings were held on petitions to keep and sell gasoline of Gawn Wilson, 320 Centre street, H. A. Spelman, 739 Washington street, J. T. Cushman, 1393 Washington street, H. H. Hawkins, 53 Pearl street, of the Telephone Co. for attachments on Orris street, Waverley avenue, Eddy street, Nevada street and for pole locations on Washington street and on the order taking land for sewer in Kenmore street, at none of which did any one appear.

On the petition of Henry W. Palmer et al for removal of certain trees on Waltham street several appeared. Mr. Palmer wasted valuable time in talking about lettuce and tomato plants, to embellish his only argument that the trees on Waltham street were too close together. Mr. A. S. Kilburn, Mr. John A. Potter and Mr. Allen favored the petition and Mr. O. C. Dow spoke in opposition.

Mr. C. A. Sylvester spoke in favor of the petition of the Newton & Boston Street Railway company to alter its track location in Walnut street at Newton Highlands and later in the evening the alteration was authorized.

On recommendation of the mayor $500 was transferred from the Treasury to the Assessing department. Petitions were received from Mrs. Hafner for a sewer in Carlisle street, of the W. U. Telegraph Co. to cross Chestnut street with a wire, of Henry S. Moody that the City Engineer furnish plans for a bridge across Laundry brook at Wilshire road, of James W. Prendergast and Morris S. Sullivan for minors' licenses, Joseph Royer for a junk license, W. Q. Gulliver for pool and billiard table licenses, Eagles et al for laying out of Loring street, of S. A. Conover to use land taken for drain off Hyde avenue as a driveway, and of H. H. Tilton to manufacture fireworks on Stanford street.

Hearings were ordered for June 23 on petitions of the Telephone Co. for poles on Auburn street, of the Gas Light Co. for attachments on Walnut street, St. James street, for conduits on Walnut street and for pole locations on St. James street, Rowe street and Northgate park, also on communication from the Forest Commissioner relative to removal of certain dead trees. A hearing was ordered for Sept. 13 on petition of A. H. Walt to keep gasoline at 60 Vernon street. Petitions of C. E. Kelsey Montvale road, Bowman et al, Fuller street, and Thompson et al, Boylston street, for street sprinkling, and of the Gas Light Co. for relocation of poles on Auburn street were granted.

The request of the Abundant Village Improvement Society that new park at railroad station be named NYE PARK, and of E. J. Brandon for permission to use the grounds of Boston College June 19th were received and granted. Requests of Vesta D. Cook and others to apportion betterment assessments on Newell road and Orris street were granted.

On favorable reports of committees orders were adopted laying out under the betterment act and authorizing sewer construction in Plymouth road, Carver road, Bradford road, Endicott street and Bellingham street and hearings were assigned on June 23 on taking land for drainage outlet off Endicott street, taking land for sewer outlet off Plymouth road, for laying concrete sidewalks under the betterment act on Parker street and Langley road. W. H. Colgan Co. was granted permit to sell gasoline at 1238 Washington street, the Gas Light Co. granted attachments on Central street, Vernon street, underground conduits in Walnut street, the Newton & Boston Street Railway Co. granted a crossover location on Commonwealth avenue at Lake street, a fire alarm box ordered placed at Needham and Winchester streets, land taken and sewer construction ordered in Kenmore street, a water main authorized in California street, and these claims ordered settled—Thomas Kiley, $108, Mrs. C. E. Kennedy, $25, Timothy Shinnick, $69.75, James Kenting, $20, B. & A. R. Co. sewer taking at Cook street, $263.25, and at Waban for $658.05. Petition of Mrs. D. Gore for personal injuries, Mrs. S. E. Manson for loss of rent on account of work on Cook street, Geo. L. Johnson for abatement of betterment assessment on Newell road, on petition for sewer in Oakwood road, for sidewalk on Floral street, for junk license for Sam Wax, and on petition of Gas Light Co. for poles on Grove street.

Orders were adopted authorizing receipt of $60 for concrete sidewalk in passageway between Walnut street and Omar terrace, for hearing and for discontinuing portion of sewer taking at Cook street railroad crossing, granting Gas Light Co. attachments on Orris street, and authorizing receipt of $2,000 from citizens and for expenditure of $5,225 more for work of constructing Endicott street, Bellingham street, Plymouth, Carver and Bradford roads.

An order was adopted making the Forest Commissioner, the Street Commissioner and the City Engineer to investigate and report in September as to the location of trees dangerous to the highway, dangerous to sidewalks, as to decayed trees which should be replaced, trees in crowded localities and any suggestions as to existing trees or new trees as may be deemed advisable.

The board adjourned at 9.15. The Brighton Wet Wash Laundry is giving away a beautiful gold bronze parlor clock to all customers. They do this to introduce their fine laundry work. Many Newton people have already received their clocks and are much pleased with them. All work collected and delivered within 24 hours.

DO NOT KILL THESE BUGS

The Calosoma Sycophanta Are Making War on the Gypsy Moth.

Calosoma Sycophanta? Warning! Do not destroy these beneficial insects!

They are the bugs which the state gypsy moth and brown-tail fighters are using to kill destructive pests, and State Forester F. W. Rane has sent out circulars asking people to protect them. In their feasts upon gypsies and brown-tails the calosomas are likely to be found underneath burlap with the destructive kind. Mr. Rane's circular says:

"They are our European imported friends already established in many places, and are doing valiant service in destroying the gypsy and brown-tail moths. They are very active. In each stage they are destroyers of the gypsy and brown-tail caterpillar and pupae.

"Do not destroy them. Pass the word along and let everybody protect them. Teachers and parents, instruct your young people not to molest them. When killing gypsy moth caterpillars under burlap you are also likely to find these insects, but be careful to do them no harm.

"In order to ascertain how generally they have spread, I shall be glad to receive reports from any person who may find them."

SUMMER THEOLOGY

The summer school of theology began its annual session Tuesday morning in the Newton theological institution at Newton Centre. The formal opening took place Monday evening when a preparatory address was made by Rev. Dr. O. P. Gifford of Brookline.

The sessions will be continued until June 25. The program will include morning meetings, physical exercises in the afternoon and open air meetings in the evening. There is an array of well known clergymen scheduled to conduct the classes. Prof. Henry L. Stetson of Kalamazoo college, formerly president of Des Moines college, will deliver a series of lectures on "Studies in Psychology and Religion." Two illustrated lectures on Palestine will be given by Prof. Charles R. Brown. Prof. Frederick L. Anderson will deliver five lectures upon "The Sermon on the Mount." Prof. John M. English will lecture on "The Minister as a Preacher."

Then there will be a series of lectures on "Phases of Modern Religious Life" by President George E. Horr of the institution. "The Problem of the Country Church" will be discussed by Prof. Henry K. Rowe. Among other lecturers will be President H. P. Faunce of Brown university, Prof. David G. Lyon of Harvard, Rev. Millard F. Johnson, Rev. Dr. E. A. Hanley, and Rev. Dr. Francis H. Rowley.

One of the novel features of the course this season will be frequent excursions for gaining practical and first hand knowledge of conditions existing among "the other half." Through courtesy of Commissioner Billings the students will visit the wharves in Boston and see how the government cares for aliens as they leave the ocean liners. Under direction of G. I. Cardellullo of the city missionary society there will be a tour of the Italian quarter. The first one of these excursions will be made next Saturday evening.

WEST NEWTON PLAYGROUND

What is being done about the playground? Has the matter been dropped? With the prospects of prosperous times near at hand, the lots which are desirable for this purpose are more than likely to be secured for building purposes, when the question of a playground is settled for all time in the wrong direction.

It seems strange that with the immense amount of wealth in West Newton, the paltry sum required for this purpose is not forthcoming and the site secured at once. If the citizens have any regard for the children of tomorrow, yes of to-day, they should provide a place for them to play. Other Wards are alive on the subject. West Newton seems to be utterly devoid of public spirit.

In recent article in the GRAPHIC, the Smith estate, Watertown street, was suggested as the most desirable. After making a careful investigation of all the lots in West Newton, it impressed me as being far superior to any other. Why not settle the question before the exodus for the summer.

MRS. BESANT COMING

Mrs. Annie Besant, the world's president of the Theosophical Society, and easily considered the most eloquent woman lecturer in the world, is expected to arrive in America from India about August 4th and will make a tour of this country going as far west as Vancouver.

The people of Boston and vicinity who are interested in the wisdom religion will undoubtedly have an opportunity to hear this famous woman before her return to India about October 9th.

BOY DROWNED

While bathing in Crystal lake at Newton Centre yesterday afternoon, Leo Mullen, the 11-year old son of Thomas Mullen of 1650 Centre street, Newton Highlands, ventured beyond his depth on the Newton Centre side of the lake and was drowned.

Other boys bathing some distance away saw him struggling in deep water, but were unable to reach him in time to render assistance. There were many boys bathing at the time near the public bathhouse on the Lake avenue side of the water. It is believed the boy was seized with cramps.

Police dragged the lake and recovered the body, which after being viewed by an assistant medical examiner was turned over to a Newton undertaker.

The accident has caused considerable agitation for additional life saving apparatus about the shores of the lake. There have been similar fatal accidents in the lake in past years, and it is said the authorities will be asked to install more apparatus.

PIANO RECITAL

The second recital by pupils of Mr. Henry T. Wade was given in the hall at the Hunnewell Club last Saturday afternoon before a representative audience. The program was a more ambitious one than that given at the first recital, as the pupils were older, and some of the selections were exceedingly difficult. All the pupils acquitted themselves in a satisfactory manner and each received generous applause. The soloist was Miss M. Ernestine Harding, soprano. The pupils who took part were: Marjorie Holmes, Vincent Dalger, Edith Fisher, Edith Holbrook, Mary Marguerite James, Edith L. Jamieson, Dorothy Stanley Emmons, Cordelia Amy Litchfield, Marion Hazel Morse, Mildred Shepherd Drake and Mary L. Merrihew.

MOTHERS' REST

The Sunday services at the Mothers' Rest, Needham Heights, will be held at 4 o'clock. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Miss Sara Wilts of West Roxbury will conduct the services for June 27.

PINAFORE AGAIN

Two performances were given this week at Bray hall, Newton Centre, of that tuneful opera of long ago, "Pinafore." The first presentation was Tuesday night and the second took place last evening, both under auspices of the Sunday school of the Sacred Heart church.

Mrs. Frances Kelliber had charge of the performances, being assisted by Mr. Daniel Pennell. Mr. George Walker appeared as the admiral of the navy, while Mr. James Linehan was at his best as the rough and ready captain. Miss Mary White scored a hit as Little Buttercup, while Miss Margaret Ring won applause as Hebe. Mr. Harold Turner as Dick Deadeye kept the audience in laughter whenever he appeared on deck of the royal yacht. Mr. Daniel Horrigan was the boatswain and Mr. Thomas Coffinger appeared as the midshipman.

WOMEN'S TENNIS

Miss Helen Alley carried off honors in the women's club championship tennis events which have been in progress upward of a week on the Brae Burn Country Club courts at West Newton.

In the singles Miss Alley had little difficulty in defeating Miss Frances Witherbee, 6-1, 6-2. Miss Witherbee had reached the semi-finals after playing excellent tennis in other rounds, particularly in her matches with Miss Ruth Whidden and Miss Mary Robbins.

In the doubles Mrs. W. F. Pratt and Miss Alley beat Mrs. Hartwell and Miss Lucy Robbins, 6-3, 6-0. There was a good field of starters in the preliminary round in doubles, but throughout the tournament Mrs. Pratt and Miss Alley won their matches in straight sets.

WE MUST BRING BACK THE PURPLE MARTINS

Five years ago those useful birds, the purple martins of Massachusetts, were almost exterminated by a series of cold storms in the nesting season. Recent observations indicate that they are now beginning to come back. The State Ornithologist will be grateful for any definite information in regard to instances of the nesting of these birds within the state. Locality and approximate number of birds now breeding are important items.

COLUMBIA PARK BOYS' CLUB

This morning on the American steamer "Mariposa," forty-two members of the Columbia Park Boys' Club will make their departure on what promises to be a memorable and monumental journey. This trip has been originated through correspondence between the Secretary of the "Young Australia League" and the head-worker of the Columbia Park Boys' Club, Sidney S. Peixoto, and the ideas which are to be carried out as a result of this tour means the inter-mingling of the boys of two young nations, whose aims and ambitions are much along the same lines of development.

The "Young Australia League" is a most interesting institution of Australia. It has been the idea of its founders, to follow the motto of the League, "Education by Travel," in as large a way as possible. The boys have been taken for the last seven years about the country during vacation time, under the proper guidance of enthusiastic men, and have been shown the wonders and industries and the beauties of their native land. Last year 455 boys were moved from seventy-five school districts to Albany in Western Australia, to witness the arrival and testimonial in connection with the coming of the United States Battleship Fleet. It is the aim of the League to give the benefits of travel to those school boys of Western Australia who are worthy of such a tour.

The Columbia Park Boys' Club is an old established institution in the city of San Francisco. For fourteen years it has made an earnest effort to promote a better understanding of the need of work for boys in the city of San Francisco. The Columbia Park Boys' Club has laid a foundation for boys' work that is unique in its way. The dramatic work, the long summer walking trips, the manual training, the musical development, all have been monumental in the history of this Boys' Club and a race of strong, sturdy boys has been developed and a living example set of what the American city boy ought to be trained to do. At the end of its fourteenth year the head-worker of the Club is taking forty of its sturdiest sons on this long and wonderful trip to Australia, and to show the Australian boys how the highest type of American boy, at the present time, can be developed.

The party that leaves to-day consists of a group of seven senior members of the Club, all of whom have been in the organization for at least ten years. They have grown up with the Club from boyhood. They represent the highest development of the work and are trained in all the different branches for which the Club has stood sponsor. They represent the government of the party and have a full understanding of the responsibility of governing the younger members. The younger members range from sixteen to twelve years of age. The entire party forms a magnificent marching band of forty pieces. It can be said with truth that the work of this band is such that few boys' organizations can boast of a better musical institution. The boys are trained in military drilling and perform during their marching a series of evolutions, while the band is playing. All these boys take part in an evening entertainment of the highest order. These evening entertainments are to be given in every large city in Australia and it is expected through them to make a substantial sum of money and to pay all the expenses of this long journey. These entertainments have been given for the last seven years in the cities and towns along the coast of California during their summer walking trips. The boys are noted for their cleverness and the citizens of these towns turn out in large numbers whenever the boys come their way during the summer time.

The foremost object of this trip, however, will be the athletic side of it. It is proposed to play Australian football against the school boys of Australia. The Columbia Park Boys have never played the game against any team, as it is a game native to the soil of Australia and has never been played in any other country than that in which it was conceived. The Columbia Park Boys have been trained for this work by residents of the city of San Francisco, who have played the game in Australia, and while they cannot be expected at first to win, it is predicted that through their physique and their long association in American forms of athletics that they will make a very fine showing in their international competition. The boys have been successful athletes ever since the Club was started. Last year the Club won the Jas. E. Sullivan trophy for the champion baseball team under 115 lbs in the city of San Francisco and also the P. J. Goldsmith pennant for the same game. In the Pacific Athletic Association's Tournament of basketball, in which fifty-one teams were entered, the Columbia Park Boys won two trophies out of the four championships for the State in the 120 and 140 lb. classes. The boys of the Club have enjoyed the benefits of a high class gymnasium throughout their membership and so they are able to cope successfully with the sturdy boys of the Antipodes.

The coming of this group of boys from America is being looked upon with the greatest interest in Australia. The party has been guaranteed free accommodations in the three large States of Australia for a period of one month each, the Football Association of New South Wales undertaking to care for the boys in New South Wales, the Football Association of Victoria in that State and in Western Australia the same courtesies will be extended to this party. During the tour they will be the guests of honor at numerous dinners and school reunions and the prospects of a successful tour are certain.

The passage of Chapter 423 of the Acts of 1909 opens the way for a sensible solution of the problem of selling fruit, ice cream, soda water and confectionery on Sunday. The present method of requiring applications to take out Common Victualler licenses, and to equip themselves with a gas stove, a table and chairs and be prepared to serve food if required, is about as near a farce as can be imagined. The new law should be promptly accepted by our city government and immediate action taken towards granting licenses to responsible persons for this business.

To the Editor of the Newton Graphic:

In answer to the question asked by the "Boys' Friends" in your last week's issue—"What is being done about the (West Newton) playground?"—would say that a committee was appointed, consisting of Robert S. Gorham, Seward W. Jones and F. E. Spaulding to consider the question as to the best location for a playground for that part of West Newton, which lies north of Washington street and it was the unanimous opinion of that committee that the Common, corner of Elm and Webster streets, was the best location.

An option to purchase the Common has been obtained and over one-half the amount necessary to pay for same has already been subscribed, so it seems hardly fair for the "Boys' Friend" to say that "West Newton seems to be utterly devoid of public spirit."

Now if the "Boys' Friend" will call at the First National Bank, West Newton, and obtain one of the subscription lists and help get a few subscriptions, it won't be long before the West Newton boys will have a playground.

We know there are lots of people "Just waiting to be asked" who wish to give towards this worthy object.
"ONE OF THE BOYS."

OLD RESIDENT DEAD

Mr. James L. Deacks, for many years a resident of this city, died

Mr. Deacks was born December 30, 1838, in Strood, Kent, England, and young man he served as a musician in the English army. Coming to this country he first settled in Watertown, later coming to Newton to engage in the custom boot business and for 27 years he was employed by a shoe firm in Waltham. He was at one time a member of the Newton fire department, and for some years sang in Grace church choir. He is survived by a wife, two daughters and three sons. The funeral took place yesterday afternoon at the family home, 116 Pearl street, Rev. Laurens Mac-Lure, STD, rector of Grace church, tributes. There were selections by several members of Grace church

Waban School closed its most successful year last week. The examinations were held on Monday and Tuesday forenoons, the annual field day was Monday afternoon and the closing exercises, with an address by Dr.
Winship of the Journal of Education, on Tuesday afternoon.

The contests for the Melsenbach trophy for the best athletic work for the year, including the final field day, was won by Morris Phinney of West Medford. The first prize, a gold medal, for the largest number of points in the field day meet, was won by David Brown of Hingham, the second prize, a silver medal, by Thomas Dol-ber, 2nd of Brookline and the third

Dwight of Holyoke.

Among the prizes offered to the

NORUMBEGA PARK.

Everything is going along just as smoothly at Norumbega Park as if nothing had happened. The crowds that go there daily are not through yet marvelling at the wonderful accomplishment of clearing away the ruins of the burned theatre and building a complete new theatre in a week.
The evidence is there indisputable for the performances are being given every afternoon and evening, and the theatre was done and the vaudeville program resumed when they announced they would be. The theatre at Norumbega Park will probably go down in history as the quickest piece of stage and theatre construction on record. While only temporary for this season it is to all intents and purposes just as good as the one that burned down. At least the performances may be enjoyed in this theatre just as well, the same comforts are provided, there are just as many seats—3000—and all are protected from sun and rain. The vaudeville program this week is specially good.

WINSLOW—MICK

On Tuesday evening, June 22, at her home on Parker street, Newton Centre, occurred the wedding of Miss Alma E. Mick and Mr. Everett C.
Winslow of Providence, R. I. The ceremony, performed by Rev. W. M.
Mick, father of the bride, took place in a large marquet tent on the spacious front lawn, which was made most attractive with pink mountain laurel and sweet peas.

In the front of the house, an orchestra, commencing with the wedding march, rendered appropriate music during the entire evening. The house was profusely decorated with peonies, roses and carnations. The bridal party entered the tent between white ribbons carried by twelve young ladies, friends of the bride.

Miss Mick wore a beautiful Directoire gown of soft white satin with chiffon and Duchesse lace, and carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley and white sweet peas. Mr. and Mrs. Wendell K. Mick were best man and matron of honor, the latter wearing white lace and carrying pink sweet peas. Virginia Sanderson, niece of the bride was flower girl, and the following young men acted as ushers: Mr. Winslow's brothers, Joseph N. and Edward Winslow, Mr.
Harold G. King and Mr. George Bennett.

Mr. and Mrs. Winslow, who were the recipients of many beautiful gifts, left that evening for a trip to the Berkshires. They will reside in Providence, R. I.

MRS. NARCISSE A. WEEKS

Mrs. Narcissa A. Weeks of Newtonville died very suddenly at Marshfield Hills, Mass., Wednesday, June 23, of angina pectoris. Mrs. Weeks has for a number of years made her Newton home with her daughter, Mrs. Geo. M.
Bridges at 332 Walnut street, Newtonville. She spent her winters in the South and had only returned from Southern Pines, North Carolina, a few weeks ago. Mrs. Weeks was a woman of unusual talent and culture and was greatly beloved by a wide circle of friends. She commenced to teach school at sixteen on her graduation from Milton seminary and was very successful in that work. After the death of her husband, M. L. R.
Weeks, she went to East Greenwich academy as matron that she might educate her daughters. Later she was matron at a students club at Wesleyan university at Middletown, Conn. Her strong Christian character made a deep impression wherever she went and her beautiful life is an inspiration to those who were permitted to be called her friends. She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Geo.
M. Bridges of Newtonville and Miss Abbie L. Weeks, teacher at the Holton-Arms School in Washington, D. C.
The funeral service was held at her summer home in Marshfield Hills and was conducted by Rev. Geo. S. Butters, D.D., of Newton. The burial was at Laconia, N. H.

PYLE—EDMANDS

Miss Helen Agry Edmands, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wiley S.
Edmands, was married last evening to Mr. Edwin Weller Pyle of Bridgeport, Conn. The ceremony took place at the home of the bride, 36 Vernon street, Newton, at eight o'clock, and was performed by Rev. Laurens Mac-Lure, rector of Grace church.

The bride, who wore white satin duchess, with her veil fastened with orange blossoms and who carried a shower bouquet of valley lilies, was accompanied by Miss Helen L. Fitch of Boston as bridesmaid, in pale blue, with pink iridescent trimming and carrying a shower bouquet of pink sweet peas. Dr. F. Winthrop Pyle of Philadelphia was the best man.

A reception followed the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Pyle being assisted in receiving their friends by Mr. and Mrs. Edmands, Mr. Edwin L. Pyle and Dr. and Mrs. F. Winthrop Pyle.

Mr. and Mrs. Pyle will make their home for the present at 36 Vernon street, Newton.

D. R. OUTING

Sarah Hull Chapter, D. R., was delightfully entertained last Saturday by a field day at the summer home of Mrs. Charles A. Clark, of Westmore Lodge, Medfield. About 45 ladies were present and after luncheon had been served on the lawn, they were entertained with music and games, of which archery was the most popular.
The house was decorated with flowers and the chapter colors of buff and blue. In the afternoon the interesting places in the town were visited, including the rooms of the Historical Society with its curious Indian relics and the Peek house, built in 1680 and the sole survivor of the village when burned by the Indians. The state officers were guests of the chapter at the outing.

Again this year we want to suggest the practicability of having papering, and interior work of any kind, done

You take no chances whatever. We will tell you just exactly how we propose to moved, what covered up, etc.

We guarantee to follow your instructions implicitly.

You avoid all the inconvenience,—all the paint odor,— everything troublesome.

THEATRES

Tremont Theatre—"A Broken Idol," the Hal Stephens, Williams and Van Alstyne laughing song play, in which Otis Harlan is giving the greatest performance in his career in the best stellar comedy role with which he has ever been associated, continues blithely on its successful way at the Tremont Theatre, Boston. It is a well-known fact that the warm weather makes no difference to those who attend the "cool Tremont," for the house is so constructed as to be perfectly comfortable within, no matter how sultry it may be outside. "A Broken Idol" is now in its fourth week and the Boston engagement bids fair to rival the piece's phenomenal success last summer in Chicago, where it was first produced. The new scale of summer prices which gives 200 seats on the lower floor at 50 cents; 200 in the first balcony at 35 cents and the entire second balcony at 25 cents, affords a rare opportunity to theatregoers to see a really high grade show at popular prices. During the past week a new number has been introduced into the second act and it has scored one of the big hits of the show. Among the spectacular features introduced by Mr. Gus Sohke, Mr. Whitney's general stage manager, is the white silk balloon in which Miss Alice Yorke, the prima donna, ascends from the stage and makes a complete circuit of the atmospheric space of the auditorium. Mr. Otis Harlan, the star comedian of the piece, constitutes a fun-factory in himself and convulses the audience at every turn. The cast and chorus continue the same. There will be the usual Wednesday and Saturday matinees.

Kelth's Theatre—Events of importance are following each other in rapid succession at Kelth's Theatre these days, the latest announcement being the appearance of Mlle. Dazle, the dancer, who created a sensation in "The Follies of 1908," and has been engaged for a short season in the Kelth houses, beginning June 28th. This special vaudeville venture will be in a new pantomime, and she will be the first American dancer to attempt a story without words and arrangements for this event have been under way for some time. It will also mark the first vaudeville appearance in Boston of Ben Johnson, the star of "Paid in Full," who has a wide reputation among his friends as a monologist. Edwin Stanley and Company will appear in an elaborate musical act. Wynn and Lee will be remembered in that excellent talking sketch called "The College Boys." The Bounding Gordons are among the strongest of the acrobatic acts now in vaudeville; Cunningham and Marlton will appear in what they term "An acrobatic talkfest." The Dagwell Sisters will be seen in songs and dances. Others are the Van Der Koors; Chalk Saunders, the cartoonist and De Chautau's Dogs.

Orpheum Theatre—Manager Lindsay Morison makes the interesting announcement that his all star Stock Company at the Orpheum Theatre will next week present an elaborate production of "Sapho." In the version to be presented many of the objectionable features of the original will be eliminated, but in its place a great deal of wholesome comedy will be injected. Manager Morison is determined that the version which his Stock Company will present will be as beautiful and refined as any ever offered in the past. It will retain all the emotions and pathos that have placed "Sapho" in the list of the world's great master plays.

"PARAGON PARK."
It is difficult for one person to tell another about all the delights of a visit to "Paragon Park" this season. Manager George A. Dodge has provided so many new features and made such vast improvements for his fifth season that a tour of the Park provides a constant whirl of excitement and amusement, and the patron cannot remember a half that has been seen. All the while there is music everywhere. No Park ever provided so much and such a variety of high class music. In fact music seems to be the watchword at "Paragon" this summer. Patrons of the Palm Garden, whether at the dining tables with in, or at the tables on the extended verandas, are constantly entertained by the alternating concerts of the Russian Operatic Band of 70 pieces, the All American Band of 30 pieces, and the Hungarian Orchestra in the Palm Garden itself. A special feature that proves most pleasing is the presentation of "Pinafore" in a condensed half hour version by the "Paragon" Opera Company is making a great hit. The two ring free open air circus is another new feature which Manager Dodge has introduced this season. The acts consist of Bonetti's fearless whirling slide for life from the top of the electric tower while hanging by his teeth, Mlle. de Fontaine and her trained stallions, Leo Mero in his Japanese Pole Act, S. Vand on the aerial trapeze. Another free feature is balloon ascension and parachute drop made by Pionette. A big show feature this season is "The Spray of Life," an elaborate illusion spectacle which Manager Dodge imported from Paris.

A NOTE OF WARNING!

A Call to Serious Consideration of the Growing Dangers of the Fourth of July.

Is not the present form of celebration a constantly increasing source of danger to life and property? Can we stop it?

Considering the rapidly changing character of our population, the Fourth of July, as a day for the reckless use of fire-lighting substances and explosives, is proving a menace to the public welfare.

The closely built, shingled-roofed frame houses, which make up the greater part of our cities and towns, coupled with the growing carelessness regarding rubbish, add greatly to the danger.

The fireworks seem to be increasing in volume of fire and explosive effect. Even trolleys and autos are used to throw off fireworks and explosives, taking advantage of the rapid movement to prevent all control by police or fire patrols, thus doubling their dangerous effect.

The fire apparatus of our cities and towns is so overtaxed by the numberless calls on the Fourth that it is a difficult matter to respond when help is summoned by neighboring towns or cities, while the wear and tear of the fire apparatus and injury to the horses during the hot day make havoc with the apparatus and add to the burden of the taxpayer.

The lives of firemen, always jeopardized in going to and in service at fires, are doubly jeopardized by explosives thrown under the horses and into the apparatus on the Fourth.

Also the growing number of false alarms in cities, added to the reckless use of the day, lessens the ability of the department to cope with actual fires. If the city of Portland was burned by a Fourth of July celebration, sustaining a loss of some ten million dollars, how much greater the danger to property at the present time!

Never a Fourth but scores of children pay the penalty of carelessness in the present form of celebration. Life and limb are being jeopardized as never before by explosives thrown from windows above the street level, setting fire to clothing and menacing the eyesight of passers-by. Homes afflicted by recent death, or having people seriously ill, suffer intensely by the noise and continued excitement of the Fourth, and a large number of deaths are attributable to it.

If the use of fireworks and explosives was limited to public parks and playgrounds, and then only in certain hours, the police and public wardens would at least have a chance to minimize the danger.

BIRDS KILLED BY SPRAYING

A large amount of circumstantial evidence seems to justify the assumption that birds are killed by spraying trees with arsenical insecticides for the purpose of killing insects. Last year many birds were found dead where trees were sprayed and the State Ornithologist began an investigation to determine whether the birds were killed by spraying. The evidence secured was not conclusive enough to clear up the matter fully. It is now time to begin spraying for the gypsy moth, brown tail moth and elm-leaved beetle. Dead birds usually may be found within two or three days after spraying has been done.

All who are interested in bird life are requested to be on the watch for dead birds under or in the vicinity of sprayed trees, and to forward any found to E. H. Forbush, State Ornithologist, Room 136, State House, Boston, Mass. It is proposed to have the birds' bodies analyzed to learn if they have been poisoned by the spraying mixture.

AMATEUR ATHLETICS

Castle Stirling, Knights of King Arthur, of Auburndale, defeated Castle Carlyle, K. O. K. A. of Newtonville in an intercastle championship track meet, 61 to 20. The meet was held at Cabot park, Newtonville, last Saturday morning. Captain R. Allen of the Stirling track team should be given great credit for the work he got out of his team. The members of Castle Stirling team had only one practice and Patterson was the only man who had any training. Stuart Ryder, H. Allen and R. Allen excelled for the winners, Ryder getting a total of 21 points. H. H. Allen followed with 14 points and Capt. R. Allen got 13 points. Castle Carlyle men deserve great credit for the efforts they made to win the meet. Capt. Payne of Carlyle should be commended for his true sportsmanship and leadership. There was only one accident in the meet, Capt. Payne of Carlyle being tripped in the mile run. E. Hickox excelled for the losers, following is the list of events and winners: 100-yd. dash—R. THE LAKE CHAMPLAIN CELEBRATION

Through the celebration of the 300th anniversary of the discovery of Lake Champlain on July 4-10, Vermont will be very much in the public eye during the next month. The program for this important historic observance provides for a series of events on both sides of the Lake, and with the President of the United States, members of the Cabinet and diplomatic corps, governors of several states and high officials of Canada there the affair will take on an international character and will be handled on a scale never before attempted in a celebration of a like character in this part of the world. There will be parades and water sports and patriotic exercises, the dedication of a Champlain monument, and a genuine novelty in the water pageant by a group of Indians, depicting scenes such as were enacted on the beautiful sheet of water three hundred years ago. There will be celebrations at Burlington, Plattsburg, Crown Point, Isle la Motte and Vergennes. Hundred of Vermonters and others are planning to enjoy the week at some one of these places on the Lake during the week and the railroads are arranging for extra transportation facilities and reduced round trip excursion rates from all New England points have been made. The round trip rate from Boston via Central Vermont Railway, through the heart of the Green Mountains, to Burlington, for instance, is $3.80 and there are correspondingly low rates to other points.

Residents of Newton who are considering opening a bank account in Boston should pay a visit to the Bay State Trust Company, located at 222 Boylston street, very convenient to the Back Bay stations or the Boylston Street Subway cars. It allows interest on deposits subject to cheque, it stores valuables and issues Letters of Credit and Travelers' Cheques. The vaults are perhaps the most convenient in Boston owing to their unique situation on the entrance floor. This obviates the necessity of going up and down stairs. Ladies will find every convenience and comfort in the room specially provided for them.
